Canfield Dinner Is Not to Boom Him for Governor

Though His Friends Believe Him to be Qualified for High Office, They are Now Only Giving Testimony to His Civil and Fraternal Worth.

The testimonial dinner to be tendered former Mayor Palmer Canfield will take place in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Astor, New York city, on Friday evening next. It is expected that upwards of one thousand will attend, including a number of persons from Ulster county and other places upstate.

Among the speakers will be Samuel Gompers, president of American Federation of Labor, the Hon. Samuel Koenig, chairman of the Republican committee of New York county, Congressman Clarence MacGregor of Buffalo, and possibly Senator Wadsworth, dependent upon his official duties at Washington. Former United States Senator Charles E. Towne will preside.

Among the guests will be Congressman MacFadden of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee on banking and currency in congress; the Hon. T. V. O'Connor, chairman of the shipping board, Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair, Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, the Hon. Charles D. Hilles, Republican national committeeman, Judges Henry W. Rogers and Julius M. Mayer of the federal circuit court, Judges Knox, Bondy, Goddard and Winslow, of the United States district court, Police Commissioner Enright and Corporation Counsel George Nicholson of New York city.

Upon the committee are members of judiciary including Judge Hasbrouck of this city, Judge Morschauser of Poughkeepsie, County Judge Fowler of this county, County Judge Edgar Mosher of Auburn, who is also grand representative of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and Judge Sponable of Fort Plain. A number of Republican county chairmen are represented, including Philip Elting of this county, the Hon. Clyde Proper of Schoharie county, the Hon. J. D. Wilson, Jr. of Orange county, the Hon. Samuel Koenig of New York county, and Senator Kavanaugh, chairman of Saratoga county, and a number of assembly district Republican leaders in New York, Bronx and Kings counties. In addition a number of fraternal organizations are represented upon the committee of arrangements and a number of federal officials.

It has been rumored that the dinner is the forerunner for a boom for ex-Mayor Canfield for attorney general or governor. A member of the committee stated today that the dinner is given as a testimonial dinner in testimony of the civic and fraternal service of Mr. Canfield, especially as federal prohibition director of New York state for the past year and upwards, but that his friends believe he possesses the necessary qualifications for higher offices when the logical and proper time comes.

MRS. MICHAEL NOT FIRST WOMAN ON HEALTH BOARD

Editor, Freeman:

I would like to correct an error that appeared in your issue of April 16, 1924, under "New Members on Health Board," which stated that "Mrs. Michael was the first woman to be appointed on the board of health," the fact is that Mrs. C. M. Preston and Mrs. Howard Chipp were appointed by Mayor Block and confirmed by County Judge Van Etten, as the common council refused to confirm them after appointment by the mayor, at that time, I think, in 1903 or 1904. As far as known they were the first women to be appointed to any board of health in the state of New York up to that time.

Respectfully yours,

A. H.

MIDNIGHT FIRE AT HOME OF SCHUYLER SCHULTZ

Fire which is thought to have started in a brick fireplace in the home of Schuyler Schultz, No. 37 Green street, caused an alarm to be turned in from Box 215 at midnight. The flames had burned through some studding and into a portion of the outside sheating of the house. The firemen extinguished the blaze and the damage was not heavy.

Lang Sells Star Hams.

In the Armour's Star ham advertisement in Friday's issue of The Freeman the name of F. C. Lang and Co. of 567 Abeel street was omitted from the list of dealers below the West Shore, selling Star hams.

Auto Club Governors.

The monthly meeting of the board of governors of the Automobile Club of Ulster county will be held Monday evening at the Stuyvesant Hotel at 8 o'clock.

A Chimney Fire.

A chimney fire in the residence of former Alderman John A. Fischer on Abeel street about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon called out the firemen. There was no damage.

Fouhy Lands In Florida Jail

Accused of Grand Larceny and Fought Against Extradition to That State—May Explain to Florida Officials.

James F. Fouhy, the well known resident of Shandaken, who has been fighting extradition proceedings taken by the state of Florida to get him there to answer to a charge of grand larceny, in connection with the purchase and subsequent sale of an automobile, is safe in jail at Pulaski, Putnam county, Florida, where he was taken several days ago by an officer appointed by the governor of Florida to receive him from the authorities of New York state.

Fouhy has a handsome residence at Shandaken and also has a winter place in Florida. He has spent the winters in Florida for a number of years until the past winter. The charge of grand larceny grew out of an automobile transaction, which he had there about a year ago, the automobile being located in New York city, after he had left that state.

Habeas corpus proceedings were taken by Fouhy as soon as he was arrested at his Shandaken home, and lengthy hearings were had before Judge Hasbrouck, who vacated the writ but granted a stay in which to give Fouhy time to appeal to the appellate division, as he said he intended to do. Judge Hasbrouck provided in his order that in no case should the stay be extended longer than the first of April.

When the first of April arrived, Fouhy had not taken any appeal and immediately became liable to arrest. He was located at his home at Shandaken last Sunday, and was arrested by Undersheriff Haulenbeek, who locked him in jail. Upon the statement that steps were being taken to effect a settlement of the grand larceny charge, the time of Fouhy in jail was extended to Tuesday night, but failure for anything to materialize led to his being turned over to an officer from Florida on Wednesday. Word has been received from Florida that he and the officer who came north to get him have arrived safely.

During his proceedings to prevent his extradition to Florida, Fouhy has been represented by Van Etten & Cook of this city, Judge William D. Cunningham of Ellenville, Mr. Katzenstein, ex-Assistant District Attorney Edward P. Kilroe and Mr. McHugh, all of New York city. District Attorney Traver represented the New York state and Florida officials.

Entertainment at Benedictine Ball

The entertainment committee of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Benedictine Hospital have been very fortunate in securing the services of Miss Gabrielle Gruber of Albany to sing in the armory the night of the Benedictine ball.

Miss Gruber needs no introduction to the music lovers of Kingston. She was heard in a song recital for the Elks' benefit in the high school auditorium one year ago. Her voice is a high clear soprano of wonderful range. Radio owners have heard Miss Gruber many times in their own homes as her songs are broadcasted from stations WGY (Schenectady) and WHAZ (Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute). She has also been heard in song recitals in New York city.

Miss Gruber brings her own accompanist, Stewart Swart, a young man of wide reputation. Mr. Swart is also well known in this city. He has made many records for different talking machines.

The committee also wishes to announce that Miss Frances Kelliher and Miss Marion Byrne, of this city, pupils of the Phalif School of Dancing of New York, will give exhibition dancing. Both young ladies have been presented to the public at different social events. Their artistic work has been very much enjoyed and appreciated.

Last but not least the committee wishes to announce that little Miss Gleason will be present again this year. Everybody who was at the ball last year will remember the little Miss who entertained with toe dancing. Her art was enjoyed by all and she was the topic of conversation for many days following the ball.

LEGION MINSTREL REHEARSAL AT ELKS' CLUB SUNDAY

A rehearsal of those taking part in the American Legion minstrels will be held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Elks' Club and a full attendance is expected. The minstrels will hold forth at the high school auditorium on April 28 and 29.

Install Costly Telephone Repeaters At Local Plant

Nearly Million Dollars Worth of Equipment Being Set Up By A. T. and T. Co. for Use on Its Long Distance Circuits.

Expert electricians are busy at work in the new building of the New York Telephone Company on West O'Reilly street installing nearly a million dollars' worth of equipment for the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, who have leased the first floor of the building from the local company. The men have been at work for nearly three months on the job of installation, which will not be completed until fall. Mr. Gladding, a representative of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, is in charge of the work here.

A repeater equipment for use on long distance circuits is being installed. These repeaters act the same as radio tubes and amplify the voice and send it on to the next station. In this way one can talk from New York to San Francisco and hear the man on the coast as distinctly as if he was in the same city.

This repeater equipment will only be used on circuits passing through Kingston and not on circuits originating here.

The apparatus is very intricate and requires the services of skilled electricians to install.

Also there will be numerous sets of telegraph repeaters, which are used on long telegraph circuits. The telephone company leases many wires to brokerage houses, press associations and others.

Presbyterians to Dedicate Sunday

Ramsey Memorial Building Finished and Easter Services With Hummel Musicians Present Will Be Held There—Public Inspection Tuesday.

The Easter Sunday services at the First Presbyterian Church this year will be in the nature of a dedication of the new Ramsey Memorial Building, in which the morning service at 10:30 o'clock and the Sunday school at noon will be held. The pastor, the Rev. Putnam Cady, D. D., will officiate and preach and the musical service will be greatly enhanced by the violin and piano numbers played by Earle and Stanley Hummel, the youthful musicians of such note, who were formerly connected with this church and now live in Albany. Directly following the dedicatory service in the morning, the Sunday school will hold its Easter service, also in the new building. A fine and appropriate program will be given by the Sunday school children, assisted by their former companions, Earle and Stanley Hummel. There will also be service in the evening at 7:30 o'clock in the new building, with an elaborate musical program, and at the close of the service, the entire building will be lighted for inspection.

On Tuesday evening of next week, from 5 to 8 o'clock, the men of the church will serve, in the new dining room, a roast chicken supper, to which it is hoped the people of Kingston will come in large numbers, both to partake of the delicious viands and to see the new memorial building.

This new building gives to the First Presbyterian Church one of the most completely equipped Sunday school and community houses of any church in the city. On the main floor is the large auditorium or assembly room, also the women's parlors, handsomely furnished. Here the women of the church will hold their weekly and monthly meetings. The class room for the infant class is also on this floor and is completely equipped with the very latest devices which make the modern infant class Sunday school room such a joy to the little children and their teachers.

There are two balconies and these are arranged for class rooms for the older Sunday school pupils.

In the basement is the large and delightful dining room which when not in use as a dining room can be used by the young people of the church for entertainments, basketball, etc. Then there is a large and most modern kitchen with large gas ranges, a hot water boiler and a steam oven for keeping food hot for serving. There are also dressing rooms in the basement.

Both the church and the new building have been completely equipped with a new and most satisfactory heating system. The building contractor for the new building has been Kennedy of Esopus; the plumbing and heating has been done by Brown & Dressel; Carl Miller has been the electrical contractor, while Robert McKittrick has done the painting and the carpentering contract has been in the hands of Delbert Griffin.

W. C. Schryver In Sole Control

Of Big Mill and Building Business—Buys Out John H. Schryver, Who Will Go to Pacific Coast by Auto.

William C. Schryver has purchased the interest of his brother, John H. Schryver, in the Schryver Brothers Lumber Co., and Mr. Schryver will continue the business in the same painstaking and thorough manner as heretofore. John Schryver, the retiring member, is planning an extensive auto trip to the coast. In the past few years Schryver Brothers Lumber Co. have built up a very large lumber and mill work business. Last year the firm handled nearly two million feet of lumber and a great amount of mill work, including sash, doors, interior trim and stair work.

The firm was organized in 1908 under the name of Buckley & Schryver, the members being the late H. H. Buckley and W. C. Schryver. In the year 1915 John H. Schryver was taken in as a member of the firm. In 1921 W. C. & J. H. Schryver bought out the interest of Mr. Buckley and the firm was organized under the name of the Schryver Brothers Lumber Co.

Schryver Brothers have executed many large contracts, some of them being the gymnasium building at Annandale on the Hudson, this firm being general contractor and the cost of the building approximately $100,000. Other out of town jobs are the Jewish Girls Home at Big Indian, contract for the carpenter and mill work on the Hunt Memorial Library Building at Ellenville. The up-to-date building on Water street, Newburgh, large addition to the County House at New Paltz, new high school at Wallkill, and the general contract for the poultry plant for Vincent Astor at Rhinebeck including many buildings and a fine house for the superintendent.

Schryver Brothers have also handled the carpenter and mill work and have built fine business and residential places in Kingston, a few of which are the fine up-to-date building on Wall street, Keeney's Theater, United Cigar Store, The Winter building, formerly occupied by C. H. Levin, the Peoples' Store, a new plate glass front in the Herbert Carl Building, formerly occupied by the Paris Millinery Shop, re-modelling the store front of the Clermont building on Main street and several others.

The firm gives employment to a large number of men and have recently completed and sold five dwellings. They plan to build and sell several more during the present season.

COMEDY PLAYLET AT HEBREW SCHOOL SUNDAY

A one-act comedy playlet entitled titled "A Paper Match" by E. W. Burt will be presented Sunday evening, April 20, at the Hebrew school hall under the auspices of the Young Men's and Young Women's Hebrew Associations. The cast of characters that will participate is as follows:

Sam Hunt .....Mack Lipkin
Aunt Saphrony .....Sadie Avnet
Rose White .....Irene Margolis
Corporal Brown.....Isie Schwartz

In addition to the playlet an entertaining program of several vocal and musical numbers has been arranged. A social hour will follow.

Actual Sale of Stock For New Hotel Begins in May

Dedicate Church Hall Sunday

Bishop Wilson to Supervise Great Occasion at Clinton Avenue M. E. Church Sunday.

The mechanics are putting the last touches upon the addition to Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. With the exception of a few last touches, the building will be entirely completed to dedicate tomorrow afternoon. The dedicatorial ceremony will be under the supervision of Bishop Luther B. Wilson, resident bishop of New York Area.

Tomorrow will be one of the great days in the history of Clinton Avenue Church. Bishop Wilson will preach the Easter sermon, the special service to start at noon, the Sunday school being held at 10:30. This change is necessary to conform with Bishop Wilson's program.

At 2:30 the doors of the new building will spring open and the special dedicatorial service will be held in Epworth Hall. The bishop will be assisted by the Rev. G. W. Grinton, D. D., the Rev. J. Wilbur Tetley, the Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley, the Rev. Alfred M. Wilkins and others. The music will be furnished by a male quartet composed of Arthur Rifenbary, Frank Finley, Frank Elmendorf and John Hall.

The members of Clinton Avenue Church and congregation are rightly proud of their achievements. They now have a church plant which is appriate for every occasion, the large auditorium being used for sacred purposes and nothing else.

The new hall is an excellent place for dinners and banquets, as well as perfectly adapted for social and educational purposes. The church kitchen is as well equipped as many of the first class hotels. The entire cost of these improvements will run almost $20,000 more than was expected when the church first began to talk of the new plant, but the cost seems now to be the least of the worries of the Clinton Avenue Church, as about $27,000 has already been subscribed, leaving $10,000 yet to be raised, but more than two hundred members remain to be seen. It is believed when the canvass is finally completed, which will be done in a few weeks, that the entire amount of the $37,000 will be pledged.

Clinton Avenue Church feels it is indebted to every contractor who had anything whatever to do with the building because all have rendered most excellent service, and every individual has shown a special interest in the work. The entire work was taken care of by George Lowe, architect; E. Otis Van Aken, mason; Louis Halverson, carpenter, B. F. Hammond and Joseph Yerry, painters and decorators; Theodore Weeks, mill work; L. Barth & Son, kitchen equipment; Carl Miller & Son, electrician, and the Kingston Gas & Electric Co., besides an army of the members of Clinton Avenue Church, too numerous to be mentioned in order who gave freely of their time and money.

The dedicatorial service tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, as well as the open house night on Monday evening, are open to all and the entire public is cordially invited to attend.

Getting Fair St. Ready to Pave

The street department of the board of public works has started the work of getting Fair street, between Henry and Main streets, ready for the laying of an asphalt pavement. Last September the householders were notified to relay curbs to line and grade, but as yet few have done so. The street force will first lay a foundation on top of which will be laid the asphalt pavement. Work of getting Wilbur avenue ready for its new pavement has also been started from the upper end.

Steam Shovel Damaged.

One of the steam shovels which had been engaged in clearing away the landslide which occurred at Alsen a week ago, and which was being taken back to the cement mill from which it was hired by the state highway commission, ran off the roadway as it was proceeding down the steep incline near the Alsen West Shore Railroad station Thursday and turned over and was badly damaged. That the engineer and fireman escaped injury is due to their jumping when they saw that the shovel was going over. Lewis Finger and Haven Carnright, both of Saugerties, were the engineer and fireman, respectively.

Hockenbury and Operating Company Complete Preliminary Work and Say it Can be Done; New Executive Committee Formed and the Sharpe Plot is Secured.

Announcement was made today of the organization of the New Hotel Campaign Executive Committee which will have charge of the stock selling campaign to build a new fire-proof modern hotel in Kingston.

This executive committee has secured an option on the Sharpe property on the corner of Albany and Clinton avenues as the site for the new hotel. This property has been offered at what is considered to be a very reasonable price and lends itself admirably to the hotel enterprise.

The general stock selling campaign will be held early in May and every citizen of Kingston and vicinity will be given an opportunity to participate in this community enterprise that is going to mean so much to the development of Kingston and Ulster county.

It is proposed to erect on the Sharpe property a strictly modern fire-proof building of approximately 125 rooms. The building will be so constructed that it will appeal to the commercial travelers as well as the tourists and the citizens of Kingston who may wish to close their homes and live at the hotel during the winter months. Folllowing is the official statement on the new hotel project which has been issued by the executive committee:

Real Experts Engaged.

The need for a new modern hotel in Kingston has been keenly realized by our citizens for a number of years and lack of such a hotel has become a glaring defect in our community life and development.

To correct this situation the Chamber of Commerce appointed a hotel committee to ascertain the best method of obtaining a modern hotel that would meet the needs of our community. This committee, after careful investigation, engaged the Hockenbury System, Inc., of Harrisburg, Pa., to make a thorough and scientific survey of the local hotel situation.

This organization, which has successfully financed hotels in every section of the country, made a very comprehensive and detailed survey of the local situation, which data it was able to compare with hotel conditions in a large number of cities comparable to Kingston. The American Hotels Corporation, a subsidiary of the United Hotels Company of America, operators of the largest chain of hotels in North America, also made a study of the hotel situation in Kingston, submitting their findings to the committee.

Plans Feasible.

Reports of these hotel experts were given most careful consideration by the hotel committee, and after a painstaking and thorough analysis was made the committee felt that the plans submitted by the Hockenbury System, Inc., were entirely feasible. These plans had been concurred in by the American Hotels Corporation to the extent that they have offered to operate a hotel such as has been outlined, as one of their chain on a profit sharing basis, which is outlined below.

It is proposed to incorporate the Community Hotel Company of Kingston, N. Y., under the laws of the State of New York, immediately after the close of the program for selling stock, which corporation shall take charge of the building and operation of a modern hotel in Kingston, of approximately 125 rooms, every one of which will have lavatory and toilet and most of which will have tub or shower bath.

Total Cost $450,000.

It is estimated that the site together with building, fully equipped and furnished, will cost approximately $450,000.00. It is the plan to finance the construction of the hotel by subscriptions from the citizens of Kingston and vicinity. The hotel will afford a community center with adequate accommodations for all local business and social functions and in addition will provide attractive accommodations for the city's guests, whether commercial travelers or tourists. It will also offer attractions to those of our citizens who may desire to close their homes and live at the hotel during the winter months. It also offers an opportunity to our citizens to own their hotel and to participate in the operating profits.

The Stock Issue.

It is proposed to issue approximately 3,000 shares of 6 per cent fully paid, non-assessable preferred stock of a par value of $100 per share, which will be sold at par and become cumulative three years from the date of opening. This stock will be preferred both as to dividends and assets. The proposed hotel company shall have the option of retiring by lot, preferred stock at $105 per share, plus an amount equal to all accrued dividends after date stock becomes cumulative or three years from date of opening. There will also be an issue of a like amount of common stock without nominal or par value, which will be given to the purchasers of the preferred stock, one share of common for every two shares of preferred stock subscribed and paid for. Preferred stock will be sold in units of $200. There will be no fractional shares of either class of stock issued.

Terms of Payment.

The terms of payment for the preferred stock will be most liberal and will extend over a period of fourteenth months. No bonus or gratuity of any kind, aside from the common stock named above, will be paid or received by any stockholder, and every stockholder will purchase stock on exactly the same basis as others. The project will be carried through as a community enterprise by and for the benefit of Kingston and its citizens.

The hotel executive committee feels that it has been fortunate in having secured from the American Hotels Corporation a proposal to operate and manage Kingston's new hotel. The proposed arrangement with the American Hotels Corporation contemplates an agreement whereby the citizens of Kingston and vicinity who invest their money in the project will receive not only 6 per cent on their investment in the preferred stock of the Community Hotel Company of Kingston, but that there will be available for distribution for dividends on the common stock the net profits from the operation of the hotel, after payment of the preferred stock dividends, cost of operation of the hotel, taxes, insurance, upkeep, depreciation, sinking fund, etc.

Preferred Stockholders First.

In other words the proposed contract with the American Hotels Corporation will not produce a profit for the operator until all expenses of operation, upkeep, taxes, insurance and other fixed charges have been met and the dividend of 6 per cent on the preferred stock has been paid. Therefore, the preferred stockholders through their common stock holdings will be entitled to receive $.50 of every $1 of profit made through the management of the hotel and which may be declared as dividends on the common stock. The operating company for its services shall receive 50 per cent of the common stock and therefore receive $.50 of every one dollar ($1.00) earned and declared as common stock dividends.

Sharpe Site Ideal.

The question of site received considerable attention in the survey made by the hotel experts. Their survey showed that the Sharpe property, located at the corner of Albany and Clinton avenues, was most admirably adapted as a location for a new hotel and the executive committee has obtained an option on that site. The property has a frontage of 146.23 feet on Clinton avenue and 304.42 feet on Albany avenue, and a depth of 709.73 feet. It was upon this site that the American Hotels Corporation was willing to make its proposal for the operation of the hotel. The fact that the site is located on the main automobile highway through the city makes it an ideal location for the accommodation of tourists. It is easily accessible for local patronage. In addition to this the ground floor affords opportunity for shops, which will provide a source of revenue for the hotel.

The Hotel Executive Committee is offering the above information to the public that the purchase of hotel securities will appeal to the citizens of Kingston and vicinity:

Information For Investers.

1st. Because the investment will be represented and protected by substantial assets in the form of a splendid site in the heart of the city, and a modern fire-proof, uptodate hotel to be erected thereon.

2nd. Because the hotel will provide approximately 125 much needed first class guest rooms, a well as banquet and convention halls.

3nd. Because the project is a

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

THE GRIZZLY

He was a splendid big grizzly bear and often he would stand and look over the land around his splendid mountain home and would think to himself what a great world it was.

In the springtime there were fish to be had in the rivers around

He never forgot when it was the best time to go fishing

No fisherman ever was out ahead of him He was a lucky fisherman, too and he didn't have to talk of the fish he caught

It was enough that his tummy was comfortably filled with delicious fish which he had eaten

Mushrooms too made such delicious meals for him in the early spring

He had a special place where he always went for his mushrooms

He had found them to be of the best there and year after year he went back to the mushrooms, and year after year he said to himself

"The mushrooms are good this year, very good."

Later in the season he went for berries of all sorts particularly raspberries

It was not time for them as yet but there were plenty of them growing not far from where he lived

Yes he had picked out a fine place for his home He would not let others share it with him.

No more would another Mr Grizzly invite him to go into partnership with him anywhere

This was his home ground—his home mountain section and he sniffed the air and said to himself

"Yes, I've a charming place."

But now it was the time when delicious stalks came up out of the ground and he was enjoying them

He Was a Lucky Fisherman.

He took care of himself, he was wise and he was careful. But he was not one for putting aside pleasures of the moment and thinking of the future.

He was not one to say:

"I will not enjoy myself now because I like to think of the days to come when I will be very rich in good things."

He knew that the days of the present were important, too, and that though he must be wise and no foolhardy it was ridiculous to think of riches of the future when he was living right in the present and it was only good sense to enjoy it

So he wandered about, having his places of safety, his places for watching what was going on about him

And then one day he saw another The other was beautiful Oh, such great beauty as she possessed To him she was as beautiful as any fairy princess ever was to any prince

To him she was wise and wonderful and attractive and she made him feel as though all the world were not to be compared to her for charm and beauty and splendor

He told her some of the things he thought. He told her he loved her

And Miss Grizzly looked into the eyes of the splendid, big Mr. Grizzly and said

"It seems a little foolish for us to act as we do we're so big and strong and we thought we were happy. But foolish or not, Mr Grizzly, nothing matters now save that you've asked me to be your mate and Mr Grizzly, I consent."

And the great heart of the grizzly bear trembled with happiness

His Explanation

The teacher was very hard to convey the meaning of the word "impression to the scholars in his class After giving many illustrations, he said

"Boys I have an impression in my mind Can anyone tell me the meaning of the word now?"

"Yes, sir," answered a smart little fellow

"Well, what is it?" asked the teacher

"A dent in a soft spot!" was the boy's reply

Temper and Nerves

Little Molly had been very trying all day That evening, when her grown-up sister was putting her to bed, she said she hoped the child would be a better girl tomorrow, and not make everybody unhappy with her naughty temper.

Molly listened in silence, thought hard for a few moments, and then said wisely:

"Yes, when it's me it's temper, when it's you it's nerves."

TASTY GOOD THINGS

A well baked nicely seasoned ham is one of the most delectable of main dishes

Baked Ham in Cider.—Boil the ham until nearly tender, remove the skin and cover with a thick layer of flour and water, stick in a few cloves Place the ham in a rooster with one pint of cider heated hot Place in the oven and bake an hour, basting often Serve hot for the first meal, using the cider sauce The bone may be used after the meat has been served, to boil with a cupful of split peas and half an onion, for half a day, making a fine pea soup The bone may be used to boil with cabbage and other vegetables for a boiled dinner

Cottage Cheese Pie.—Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in it cook two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and one-half teaspoonful of salt, add two-thirds of a cupful of honey or sugar, one cupful of cottage cheese pressed through a sieve the yolks of three eggs beaten light the grated rind of a lemon Mix thoroughly and turn into a pastry lined pie tin in the same manner as for custard pie Bake until firm Cover with a meringue made from three egg whites beaten stiff add four tablespoonfuls of sugar and bake until a light brown

Oyster Salad.—Choose small oysters for this salad, if not able to get them cut large ones into halves To each cupful of oysters allow crisp white celery cut into half-inch bits sprinkle lightly with salt Mix with this a good mayonnaise dressing, toss all together without crushing Line a chilled salad bowl with crisp leaves of lettuce, fill with the salad and pour mayonnaise over all Garnish with stoned olives

Fig Cake.—Take two cupfuls of stale bread crumbs, mix two tablespoonfuls of shortening with three quarters of a cupful of sugar, a little salt and nutmeg, stir in two well beaten eggs and the egg crumbs Stir four teaspoonfuls of baking powder with one cupful of flour, add one-quarter pound of figs and beat well Turn into a loaf shaped pan or one with a funnel Bake thirty to forty minutes

NEW PAIGE

De Luxe Sedan—Completely Appointed—$2770

MARK the smart lines of the New Paige De Luxe Sedan. Step in. Here's luxury of finish to delight you. Softly cushioned seats—rich velour upholstery. Ample room in both 5 and 7-passenger Sedans.

Every detail for your comfort and pleasure. Silvered fittings. Silk shades. Complete vanity cases. Clock, gasoline gauge and cigar lighter on the walnut instrument board. Locked compartment for safe carriage of packages. A trunk rack. Front and rear bumpers. Spare tire, tube and cover.

Such Riding Comfort!

Rear springs of the New Paige are more than 5 feet long—and the wheelbase is 131 inches. Ease is well protected. You'll ride in comfort at undiminished speed where many must slow down.

Start the big 70-horsepower Paige motor. How smooth and silent it is! And its silent smoothness is permanent—for high-pressure oiling in the New Paige assures perfect lubrication. You've never seen the equal of the New Paige in ease of handling with the famously gentle Paige clutch, improved transmission and ball-bearing steering spindles.

Amazing Performance in the New Paige

Press the accelerator. Feel the New Paige answer with abundant power. Paige power is more than sufficient to pass other cars on hills—or crawl slowly up in high when most find need to shift or stall.

Great speed is yours if emergency makes necessary. Or throttle down to 2 miles an hour on high. Whatever the speed—the remarkable smoothness will give you added pleasure. Gear-shifting is rarely needed though gears shift easily and quietly with the improved Paige transmission. You can shift from high to second at 30 miles an hour with barely a sound.

Consider all these points in the New Paige. Here's rarely equalled performance—comfort—smart appearance—long life. Learn the price of the New Paige. You will be amazed to find that you may now own a Sedan of such high quality at practically the same price that you must pay for Sedan models of ordinary, smaller cars.

Only last year the Paige Sedan—substantially this same car but without the improvements—sold for $3235. Today, the New Paige Sedan—bettered throughout—sells for only $2595. The De Luxe model, completely equipped, at $2770.

The Reason for the New Price

How is this new low price possible? Our plant capacity is increased 300% for this year. With tremendously increased production the saving in purchasing and overhead cost is apparent. You get this saving in improvements and price.

Let us show you the New Paige Sedan. You drive. (586-B)

PRESCRIPTIONS IN ONE

Amazing New Remedy Relieves Indigestion in all forms.

"It's the best balanced prescription I ever saw," said a famous doctor, speaking of "Royal Digesto."

"You see," he added, "some prescriptions relieve distress, others heartburn, still others neutralize acid stomach—but never before, to my knowledge, has there been a case where a single prescription combined so effectively the corrective qualities of many remedies.

In Royal Digesto there are ingredients, (1) to relieve pain, (2) to increase secretion of digestive fluids (3) and (4) to increase the action of the stomach walls, (5) to stimulate the liver, (6) to neutralize acids, (7) to cleanse the stomach of noxious bacteria, (8) to act as an antiseptic in the intestines.

Relief is immediate because Royal Digesto penetrates to every possible cause of the trouble.

Till recently the private prescription of a foreign physician—you can now get Royal Digesto in handy 12 oz. bottles—at a very low cost. Money back if ever the first treatment fails. Don't wait until digestive trouble becomes chronic. Buy a bottle today—at any good druggist such as: Ten Broeck's Drug Co., or Kingston Central Pharmacy, or Connelly Drug Co.

Aggies Beat St. Stephen's

The St. Stephen's College went down before the Connecticut Aggies yesterday by a 14-7 score. The Red and White players are not experiencing a very successful season, due to the fact that they lack a first-class twirler. They have several of last year's varsity in the lineup and the team as a whole are hitting good.

Kunkel, freshman pitcher, went along nicely for six innings and held the Aggies to five runs. He tired, however, and was replaced by Milton. The team went up in the air. A couple of bad infield errors upset Milton and the visiting team jumped him hard and settled the game in the last two innings. Harrison did the receiving for the Saints.

Choynski Sees Hitch in Queensberry Rules

Joe Choynski, veteran heavyweight pugilist, points out that the Queensberry rules were designed for bouts in rings at the floor level.

There, if a man were knocked out of the ring the count should start at once. But in the elevated ring, usually erected for outdoor contests, the conditions are changed and the commissions should recognize the right of the boxer to have plenty of time to get back into the squared circle.

Sends in Eight Runs in One Inning.

PAUL J. STEWART

Paul J. Stewart, ex-University of Illinois baseball star, established a new world's record at Bloomington, Ill., when he knocked two home runs in one inning, each time with the bases filled—sending in a total of eight runs. He plays on the Bloomington team.

FLEMMING ON WINNING COLLEGE DEBATING TEAM

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Delaware, O., April 19.—Arthur J. Flemming, 295 West Chestnut street, Kingston, was one of the speakers on the Ohio Wesleyan University freshman debate team which defeated Heidelberg at Tiffin Thursday night. The subject of the debate was the League of Nations and Wesleyan's team upheld the affirmative of the question. The Ohio Wesleyan negative team also defeated Heidelberg here, both decisions being unanimous.

The freshman debates last night brought to a close the Ohio Wesleyan debating season in which the freshmen won both of their debates, the co-eds one of their two debates, and the men's varsity teams six out of seven debates, defeating such strong teams as the University of Denver, Oberlin, Worcester, Colgate and the University of Pennsylvania.

Oak Good Grower

Scarlet oak is even less exacting as to soil than the red oak, says the American Tree association. It will grow almost anywhere and the brilliant coloring of its autumn foliage fully justifies its name. A row of these oaks brightens the landscape with the striking beauty of a forest of flame.

ORIENT IS COMING FAST IN ATHLETICS

Threaten Olympic Contenders in Near Future.

Representatives of Far Eastern countries will soon be in position to threaten the supremacy of the United States in the Olympic track and field events, in the opinion of persons who have followed closely the so-called "Oriental Olympics" of recent years.

Perhaps you never heard of the Oriental tournament. It was first held in Manila in 1911, and since has taken place every two years, alternately, in Japan and China. Japan, China and the Philippines regularly send entries.

The 1923 games were held in Osaka, Japan, and attracted between 30,000 and 40,000 persons, many of whom were American tourists. The Americans were at once made to feel at home because nearly all of the events are common in the United States. There were even several baseball games in which the Filipinos excelled.

Osaka is well equipped to handle such a tournament. A magnificent stadium was built by the city at an expense of $400,000. It inclosed a 400-meter oval track, a 200-yard straightaway, basketball, volley ball and tennis courts, swimming pools, baseball and football fields.

One of the surprises of the last meet was the improvement of the Japs in track events. The Philippines used to win more or less regularly in this department, but this time were forced to yield to swifter runners. Nearly all of the Far-Eastern records were broken and many of the marks closely approached world Olympic records. Such performances helped to mold the belief that the time is close at hand when the Orient will compete in the big Olympic games with an even chance of winning.

Bill McAuliffe And McCue Go With Bridwell

Will Leave Wednesday For Tamaqua Pass, Where They Will Play With Former Oneonta Team's Manager—Ferry And Simon Also Signed Up By Bridwell.

Bill McAuliffe, local pitcher, who made the trip to Sarasota with the New York Giants, will this season wear the suit of the Tamaqua, Pennsylvania, team. Al. Bridwell, who managed the affairs of the Oneonta team last season, has the Tamaqua team in charge this season.

Under the guidance of Bridwell, McAuliffe last season developed into one of the best semi-pro pitchers in the country and he received many offers from teams in the big show. Since McAuliffe's return to this city from the Giants southern training camp he has received many offers, including some from teams in the big leagues. One of the offers carried with it a princely remuneration and and an agreement not to farm him out further than Syracuse.

With the Giants McAuliffe had a splendid working agreement, which he thanks Bridwell for, which gave him the right to offer or accept any assignment. He received and refused the Giant offer of going into a southern league. Besides getting big money this season under Bridwell McAuliffe hopes to get a better grasp on the inside of the necessaries for a big time performer.

McCue, who played hang up ball for the Colonials last season at third base, will accompany McAuliffe on the trip next Wednesday. McCue was lined up by McAuliffe for Bridwell. If the other members of Bridwell's team can be compared with these two players, he will surely have a strong semi-pro team this season.

Simon and Ferry, members of last season's Oneonta team, will also be members of the Tamaqua team this reason. Ferry also played a few games with the Colonials last season.

Judge Orders Defeated Wooer to Kiss the Bride

New York.—Eddie Bransfield, taxi driver, wants the girls to know he is still single, though no longer unkissed. For two years Eddie wooed Edna Maxwell, an attractive dancing teacher. Recently Charles Ray, a seaman of the New York, in a spick-and-span uniform met Miss Maxwell and wooed and won her. They were married a few days later.

Endeavoring to win her back from Ray with a wicked-looking dirk, Eddie found himself in the West Side court on various charges. Magistrate listened to Eddie's story.

"Well, she's married now, so you'd better put that knife away," said the court. "I sentence you to kiss the bride and wish her luck."

Eddie lives at 127 East One Hundred and Second street.

Fight Grenade Duel for Love of Woman

Berlin.—Hand grenades are the latest thing in dueling weapons in Hungary.

Two Hungarian students at the University of Budapest, who were both in love with the same girl and could not agree as to who should have her, decided to settle this question by a duel. The weapons they chose were hand grenades at 15 yards, two shots apiece.

The duel took place recently and when the handkerchief dropped both "duelists" threw their grenades, but nothing happened. The grenades failed to explode.

In the second round both grenades went off and bespattered the conbatants with mud and snow. The referee and seconds thereupon decided that getting dirty was quite sufficient to satisfy honor and declared the hand grenade duel a draw.

Golf Ball Suitable to Champion Sarazen

Gene Sarazen, the Professional Golf association champion, in commenting on the proposed new standard golf ball, said recently:

"I can't see any reason for making a change; the ball we are using now suits me pretty well. Golfers get greater pleasure out of hitting a long tee shot than they do from any other shot of the game; therefore, why deprive them of that pleasure? However, I doubt if a ball a little larger and a little lighter will make so much difference to the average player; in fact, the 'duffers' will be benefited. The bigger ball will give a larger target to hit and sits up higher on the ground."

SUMMA BEST PLAYER SINCE TYRUS COBB

Tris Speaker's Opinion of His New Outfielder.

"The best-looking outfielder to break into the American league since the days of Cobb," is the complimentary manner in which Tris Speaker refers to young Homer Summa, who holds down right field for the Indians.

When you consider that Mr. Speaker is some outfielder himself, and that he came into the American league after Cobb, you get an even better idea of what the Cleveland manager thinks of the youngster.

"Unless Summa has a fault, or develops one that is not now apparent, one young man has a great chance to be a star in a year or two. He does everything well and will improve with each game he plays," continues Speaker.

Summa is a left-handed hitter, steps into the ball beautifully and takes a healthy cut. He is fast, has a good arm and handles himself well in the field.

Speaker, who says he is in great shape himself and looks it, believes that his legs will stay with him and that he will lose mighty few games this year.

"I have put them to every test so far and haven't felt the slightest pain or weakness. However, often some sudden start plays more havoc with a bad knee than all the hard tests you put it to.

"If I should have any trouble, Summa can play center field in great style and Frank Bower will look after right."

All of which proves the confidence Speaker has in Summa. Incidentally he feels that Summa won't have to shift to center very often.

How Parchment Is Made

Parchment is made from the skins of sheep and lambs. They are first fleeced, then scraped, polished, treated with lime, stretched and then dried. Sometimes they are rubbed down with pumice stone.

CHIEF FIGURES IN THE DAY'S NEWS.

Mrs. J. P. MORGAN and IGNACE PADEREWSKI. Rear: GEORGE W. NORRIS & ELON H. HOOKER.

Cancelling all his concert engagements and summoning members of his family, Ignace Paderewski, world famous pianist and former Prime Minister of Poland, rushed in his private car from Sioux City, Iowa, to Chicago to secure doctors and nurses for his pet Pekingese spaniel, Ping Lung. It has been rumored in Athens that two persons from the yacht Corsair, in which Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Morgan were touring the Mediterranean, had been murdered in Albania. Senator George W. Norris, of Nebraska, asked the Senate Committee on Agriculture why Henry Ford gave his support to President Coolidge after talking with the Chief Executive on his bid for Muscle Shoals. Elon B. Hooker, New York City financier, has also bid for a 50-year lease on Muscle Shoals, promising the Government $305,000,000 and the people liberal terms for fertilizer and hydro-electric power.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By Mary Graham Bonner

THE GRIZZLY

He was a splendid big grizzly bear and often he would stand and look over the land around his splendid mountain home and would think to himself what a great world it was.

In the springtime there were fish to be had in the rivers around.

He never forgot when it was the best time to go fishing.

No fisherman ever was out ahead of him. He was a lucky fisherman, too, and he didn't have to talk of the fish he caught.

It was enough that his tummy was comfortably filled with delicious fish which he had eaten.

Mushrooms, too, made such delicious meals for him in the early spring.

He had a special place where he always went for his mushrooms.

He had found them to be of the best there, and year after year he went back to the mushrooms, and year after year he said to himself:

"The mushrooms are good this year, very good."

Later in the season he went for berries of all sorts, particularly raspberries.

It was not time for them as yet but there were plenty of them growing not far from where he lived.

Yes, he had picked out a fine place for his home. He would not let others share it with him.

No more would another Mr. Grizzly invite him to go into partnership with him anywhere.

This was his home ground—his home mountain section and he sniffed the air and said to himself:

"Yes, I've a charming place."

But now it was the time when de-

He Was a Lucky Fisherman.

licious stalks came up out of the ground and he was enjoying them.

He took care of himself, he was wise and he was careful. But he was not one for putting aside pleasures of the moment and thinking of the future.

He was not one to say:

"I will not enjoy myself now because I like to think of the days to come when I will be very rich in good things."

He knew that the days of the present were important, too, and that though he must be wise and not foolhardy it was ridiculous to think of riches of the future when he was living right in the present and it was only good sense to enjoy it.

So he wandered about, having his places of safety, his places for watching what was going on about him.

And then one day he saw another. The other was beautiful. Oh, such great beauty as she possessed. To him she was as beautiful as any fairy princess ever was to any prince.

To him she was wise and wonderful and attractive and she made him feel as though all the world were not to be compared to her for charm and beauty and splendor.

He told her some of the things he thought. He told her he loved her.

And Miss Grizzly looked into the eyes of the splendid, big Mr. Grizzly and said:

"It seems a little foolish for us to act as we do, we're so big and strong and we thought we were happy. But foolish or not, Mr. Grizzly, nothing matters now save that you've asked me to be your mate, and, Mr. Grizzly, I consent."

And the great heart of the grizzly bear trembled with happiness.

His Explanation

The teacher was trying very hard to convey the meaning of the word "impression" to the scholars in his class. After giving many illustrations, he said.

"Boys, I have an impression in my mind. Can anyone tell me the meaning of the word now?"

"Yes, sir," answered a smart little fellow.

"Well, what is it?" asked the teacher.

"A dent in a soft spot!" was the boy's reply.

Temper and Nerves

Little Molly had been very trying all day. That evening, when her grown-up sister was putting her to bed, she said she hoped the child would be a better girl tomorrow, and not make everybody unhappy with her naughty temper.

Molly listened in silence, thought hard for a few moments, and then said wisely:

"Yes, when it's me it's temper, when it's you it's nerves."

To work, to help and to be helped, to learn sympathy through suffering, to learn faith by perplexity, to reach truth through wonder, behold! this is what it is to prosper, this is what is to live.—Phillips Brooks.

TASTY GOOD THINGS

A well-baked, nicely seasoned ham is one of the most delectable of main dishes.

Baked Ham in Cider. — Boil the ham until nearly tender; remove the skin and cover with a thick layer of flour and water; stick in a few cloves. Place the ham in a roaster with one pint of cider heated hot. Place in the oven and bake an hour, basting often. Serve hot for the first meal, using the cider sauce. The bone may be used after the meat has been served, to boil with a cupful of split peas and half an onion, for half a day, making a fine pea soup. The bone may be used to boil with cabbage and other vegetables for a boiled dinner.

Cottage Cheese Pie.—Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter; in it cook two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and one-half teaspoonful of salt; add two-thirds of a cupful of honey or sugar, one cupful of cottage cheese, pressed through a ricer, the yolks of three eggs, beaten light, the grated rind of a lemon. Mix thoroughly and turn into a pastry-lined plate in the same manner as for custard pie. Bake until firm. Cover with a meringue made from three egg whites beaten stiff; add four tablespoonfuls of sugar and bake until a light brown.

Oyster Salad.—Choose small oysters for this salad; if not able to get them, cut large ones into halves. To each cupful of oysters allow crisp white celery cut into half-inch bits, sprinkle lightly with salt. Mix with this a good mayonnaise dressing; toss all together without crushing. Line a chilled salad bowl with crisp leaves of lettuce; fill with the salad and pour mayonnaise over all. Garnish with stoned olives.

Fig Cake.—Take two cupfuls of stale bread crumbs, mix two tablespoonfuls of shortening with three-quarters of a cupful of sugar, a little salt and nutmeg; stir in two well-beaten eggs and the egg crumbs. Stir four teaspoonfuls of baking powder with one cupful of flour; add one-quarter pound of figs and beat well. Turn into a loaf-shaped pan, or one with a funnel. Bake thirty to forty minutes.

NEW PALTZ.

New Paltz, April 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Ten Hagen sailed from Manila on Wednesday, for a visit to the United States. Mr. Ten Hagen, who is a son of Lewis Ten Hagen of this village, has been principal of a high school in Manila. He has been in ill health for some time, and is coming home to New Paltz to rest. Mr. and Mrs. Ten Hagen are sailing on a German liner and will stop for a short visit at Hamburg and Berlin.

A very pleasing program was rendered last Saturday night at the Grange meeting. Thanks are given to the committee in charge. Following refeshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Fuller were host and hostess, after which Miss Hannon and Miss Quinn entertained with humorous recitations, which greatly delighted the company, and the ladies were warmly applauded.

Emory Jacobs expects to spend the coming week in Orange county and may motor down into Jersey.

The Junior Prom. will be held May 3. Plans are reported underway. A large attendance is anticipated, and a good time promised to all.

The guest of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Kelly went away Friday morning, April 11.

It is rumored that the Bradshaw family will leave New Paltz in the near future, and visit parts of the south.

The date of the annual concert of the Glee Clubs of the Normal school is May 8, to be held in the auditorium. One of the unusual features will be of choral dances, under the instruction of Miss Dean.

Those who attended and took charge of the extension courses last week were Mrs. Forest, charge at Rhinebeck, Miss Giddings attended at Poughkeepsie and Bruce Bennett spoke at Amenia.

At the meeting of the Study Club held at the library, Tuesday of last week, a balance of $40 was reported in the treasury, and it was decided to give the customary sum of $50 to the library. Dr. Margaret K. Smith was re-elected president. Miss Gage was in charge. Miss Smedes, Mrs. Seward and Mrs. Kevan also took active parts. Mrs. George Wells DuBois was also present at this meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving D. Sutton and daugther Helen, and Miss Ethel Silkworth spent last Tuesday in Kingston.

Mrs. Lawrence H. van Den Berg entertained a number of friends at a party Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coutant were business callers in Kingston one day the past week.

Members of the Village Board accepted the invitation and were present at the test of the Lady Washington's new American La-France apparatus on Thursday in Poughkeepsie. The invitation was given by Chief Noll of Poughkeepsie Fire Department. Those who went were: Mayor Ward, Joe Connolly, Harvey G. Gregory, Jay LeFever, Judson Schoonmaker and D. C. Seward.

Helen Bogart is able to be out again, after being ill with chicken pox.

George Duncan of Kingston, spent last Tuesday evening with friends in town.

W. Haynes of Kingston, was a caller in New Paltz one evening of last week.

ESOPUS.

Esopus, April 18—The people were all very glad to have with them on Sunday their new pastor and wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Hubert Kincade. Mr. Kincade delivered a very helpful sermon both Sunday morning and evening. Before the evening service the pastor reorganized the Epworth League with the election of the following officers: President, J. P. Ganoung; first vice-president, Mrs. W. J. McLean; second vice-president, Mrs. A. C. Hendry; third vice-president, Mrs. J. Best; fourth vice-president, Miss Amy Smith; secretary, A. C. Hendry; treasurer, A. R. Mott. There was a large attendance at both services. Sunday school will be held at 9:45. Church service, 10:45. Epworth League, 6:45. Evening service, 7:30. The business meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society that was held at the home of Mrs. Calvin Cole was well attended, and everybody had a delightful time. At the close of the meeting the ladies were invited to the dining room, where they were served with a delicious luncheon. There were two visitors present, Mrs. H. A. Benson and Mrs. F. Monroe of Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Alex Smith and daughter Amy Smith, returned home last week from New York, where they had been visiting friends and attending the New York Conference.

LeGrand Doyle of Port Ewen, has been decorating the interior of Judge Parker's home.

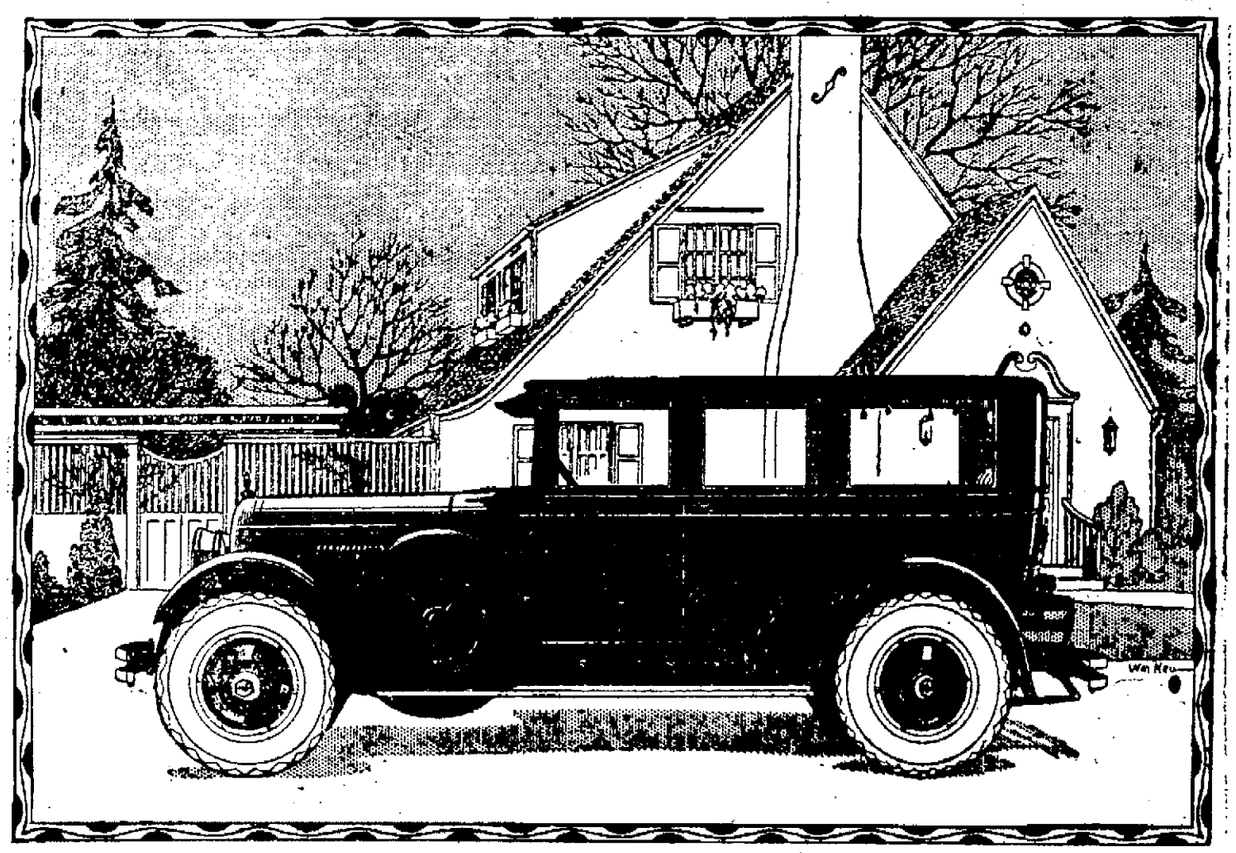

Mrs. Amy Sheeley has returned home, after spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. F. Cole of Palisade, N. J.

Mrs. J. Fuch and daughter, Miss Dorothy Fuch, returned home Tuesday, after visiting relatives in New York.

The people of the village are all very sorry to learn of the illness of Hasbrouck Freer, and hope for his speedy recovery.

NEW PAIGE

De Luxe Sedan—Completely Appointed—$2770

MARK the smart lines of the New Paige De Luxe Sedan. Step in. Here's luxury of finish to delight you. Softly cushioned seats—rich velour upholstery. Ample room in both 5 and 7-passenger Sedans.

Every detail for your comfort and pleasure. Silvered fittings. Silk shades. Complete vanity cases. Clock, gasoline gauge and cigar lighter on the walnut instrument board. Locked compartment for safe carriage of packages. A trunk rack. Front and rear bumpers. Spare tire, tube and cover.

Such Riding Comfort!

Rear springs of the New Paige are more than 5 feet long—and the wheelbase is 131 inches. Ease is well protected. You'll travel in comfort at undiminished speed where many must slow down.

Start the big 70-horsepower Paige motor. How smooth and silent it is! And its silent smoothness is permanent—for high-pressure oiling in the New Paige assures perfect lubrication. You've never seen the equal of the New Paige in ease of handling with the famously gentle Paige clutch, improved transmission and ball-bearing steering spindles.

Amazing Performance in the New Paige

Press the accelerator. Feel the New Paige answer with abundant power. Paige power is more than sufficient to pass other cars on hills—or crawl slowly up in high when most find need to shift or stall.

Great speed is yours if emergency makes necessary. Or throttle down to 2 miles an hour on high. Whatever the speed—the remarkable smoothness will give you added pleasure. Gear-shifting is rarely needed though gears shift easily and quietly with the improved Paige transmission. You can shift from high to second at 30 miles an hour with barely a sound.

Consider all these points in the New Paige. Here's rarely equalled performance—comfort—smart appearance—long life. Learn the price of the New Paige. You will be amazed to find that you may now own a Sedan of such high quality at practically the same price that you must pay for Sedan models of ordinary, smaller cars.

Only last year the Paige Sedan—substantially this same car but without the improvements—sold for $3235. Today, the New Paige Sedan—bettered throughout—sells for only $2595. The De Luxe model, completely equipped, at $2770.

The Reason for the New Price

How is this new low price possible? Our plant capacity is increased 300% for this year. With tremendously increased production the saving in purchasing and overhead cost is apparent. You get this saving in improvements and price.

PRESCRIPTIONS IN ONE

Amazing New Remedy Relieves Indigestion in all forms.

"It's the best balanced prescription I ever saw," said a famous doctor, speaking of "Royal Digesto."

"You see," he added, "some prescriptions relieve distress, others heartburn, still others neutralize acid stomach—but never before, to my knowledge, has there been a case where a single prescription combined so effectively the corrective qualities of many remedies."

In Royal Digesto there are ingredients, (1) to relieve pain, (2) to increase secretion of digestive fluids (3) and (4) to increase the action of the stomach walls, (5) to stimulate the liver, (6) to neutralize acids, (7) to cleanse the stomach of noxious bacteria, (8) to act as an antiseptic in the intestines.

Relief is immediate because Royal Digesto penetrates to every possible cause of the trouble.

Till recently the private prescription of a foreign physician—you can now get Royal Digesto in handy 12 oz. bottles—at a very low cost. Money back if ever the first treatment fails. Don't wait until digestive trouble becomes chronic. Buy a bottle today—at any good druggist such as: Ten Broeck's Drug Co., or Kingston Central Pharmacy, or Connelly Drug Co.

FLEMMING ON WINNING COLLEGE DEBATING TEAM

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Delaware, O., April 19.—Arthur S. Flemming, 295 West Chestnut street, Kingston, was one of the speakers on the Ohio Wesleyan University freshman debate team which defeated Heidelberg at Tiffin Thursday night. The subject of the debate was the League of Nations and Wesleyan's team upheld the affirmative of the question. The Ohio Wesleyan negative team also defeated Heidelberg here, both decisions being unanimous.

The freshman debates last night brought to a close the Ohio Wesleyan debating season in which the freshmen won both of their debates, the co-eds one of their two debates, and the men's varsity teams six out of seven debates, defeating such strong teams as the University of Denver, Oberlin, Worcester, Colgate and the University of Pennsylvania.

Oak Good Grower

Scarlet oak is even less exacting as to soil than the red oak, says the American Tree association. It will grow almost anywhere and the brilliant coloring of its autumn foliage fully justifies its name. A row of these oaks brightens the landscape with the striking beauty of a forest of flame.

Aggies Beat St. Stephen's

The St. Stephen's College went down before the Connecticut Aggies yesterday by a 14-7 score. The Red and White players are not experiencing a very successful season, due to the fact that they lack a first-class twirler. They have several of last year's varsity in the lineup and the team as a whole are hitting good.

Kunkel, freshman pitcher, went along nicely for six innings and held the Aggies to five runs. He tired, however, and was replaced by Milton. The team went up in the air. A couple of bad infield errors upset Milton and the visiting team jumped him hard and settled the game in the last two innings. Harrison did the receiving for the Saints.

Choynski Sees Hitch in Queensberry Rules

Joe Choynski, veteran heavyweight pugilist, points out that the Queensberry rules were designed for bouts in rings at the floor level.

There, if a man were knocked out of the ring the count should start at once. But in the elevated ring, usually erected for outdoor contests, the conditions are changed and the commissions should recognize the right of the boxer to have plenty of time to get back into the squared circle.

ORIENT IS COMING FAST IN ATHLETICS

Threaten Olympic Contenders in Near Future.

Representatives of Far Eastern countries will soon be in position to threaten the supremacy of the United States in the Olympic track and field events, in the opinion of persons who have followed closely the so-called "Oriental Olympics" of recent years.

Perhaps you never heard of the Oriental tournament. It was first held in Manila in 1911, and since has taken place every two years, alternately, in Japan and China. Japan, China and the Philippines regularly send entries.

The 1923 games were held in Osaka, Japan, and attracted between 30,000 and 40,000 persons, many of whom were American tourists. The Americans were at once made to feel at home because nearly all of the events are common in the United States. There were even several baseball games in which the Filipinos excelled.

Osaka is well equipped to handle such a tournament. A magnificent stadium was built by the city at an expense of $400,000. It incloses a 400-meter oval track, a 200-yard straightaway, basketball, volley ball and tennis courts, swimming pools, baseball and football fields.

One of the surprises of the last meet was the improvement of the Japs in track events. The Philippines used to win more or less regularly in this department, but this time were forced to yield to swifter runners. Nearly all of the Far-Eastern records were broken and many of the marks closely approached world Olympic records. Such performances helped to mold the belief that the time is close at hand when the Orient will compete in the big Olympic games with an even chance of winning.

Bill McAuliffe And McCue Go With Bridwell

Will Leave Wednesday For Tamaqua Pass, Where They Will Play With Former Oneonta Team's Manager—Ferry And Simon Also Signed Up By Bridwell.

Bill McAuliffe, local pitcher, who made the trip to Sarasota with the New York Giants, will this season wear the suit of the Tamaqua, Pennsylvania, team. Al. Bridwell, who managed the affairs of the Oneonta team last season, has the Tamaqua team in charge this season.

Under the guidance of Bridwell, McAuliffe last season developed into one of the best semi-pro pitchers in the country and he received many offers from teams in the big show. Since McAuliffe's return to this city from the Giants southern training camp he has received many offers, including some from teams in the big leagues. One of the offers carried with it a princely remuneration and and an agreement not to farm him out further than Syracuse.

With the Giants McAuliffe had a splendid working agreement, which he thanks Bridwell for, which gave him the right to offer or accept any assignment. He received and refused the Giant offer of going into a southern league. Besides getting big money this season under Bridwell McAuliffe hopes to get a better grasp on the inside of the necessaries for a big time performer.

McCue, who played bang up ball for the Colonials last season at third base, will accompany McAuliffe on the trip next Wednesday. McCue was lined up by McAuliffe for Bridwell. If the other members of Bridwell's team can be compared with these two players, he will surely have a strong semi-pro team this season.

Simon and Ferry, members of last season's Oneonta team, will also be members of the Tamaqua team this reason. Ferry also played a few games with the Colonials last season.

Judge Orders Defeated Wooer to Kiss the Bride

New York.—Eddie Bransfield, taxi driver, wants the girls to know he is still single, though no longer unkissed. For two years Eddie wooed Edna Maxwell, an attractive dancing teacher. Recently Charles Ray, a seaman of the New York, in a spick-and-span uniform met Miss Maxwell and wooed and won her. They were married a few days later.

Endeavoring to win her back from Ray with a wicked-looking dirk, Eddie found himself in the West Side court on various charges. Magistrate listened to Eddie's story.

"Well, she's married now, so you'd better put that knife away," said the court. "I sentence you to kiss the bride and wish her luck."

Eddie lives at 127 East One Hundred and Second street.

Fight Grenade Duel for Love of Woman

Berlin.—Hand grenades are the latest thing in dueling weapons in Hungary.

Two Hungarian students at the University of Budapest, who were both in love with the same girl and could not agree as to who should have her, decided to settle this question by a duel. The weapons they chose were hand grenades at 15 yards, two shots apiece.

The duel took place recently and when the handkerchief dropped both "duelists" threw their grenades, but nothing happened. The grenades failed to explode.

In the second round both grenades went off and bespattered the combatants with mud and snow. The referee and seconds thereupon decided that getting dirty was quite sufficient to satisfy honor and declared the hand grenade duel a draw.

Golf Ball Suitable to Champion Sarazen

Gene Sarazen, the Professional Golf association champion, in commenting on the proposed new standard golf ball, said recently:

"I can't see any reason for making a change; the ball we are using now suits me pretty well. Golfers get greater pleasure out of hitting a long tee shot than they do from any other shot of the game; therefore, why deprive them of that pleasure? However, I doubt if a ball a little larger and a little lighter will make so much difference to the average player; in fact, the 'duffers' will be benefited. The bigger ball will give a larger target to hit and sits up higher on the ground."

SUMMA BEST PLAYER SINCE TYRUS COBB

Tris Speaker's Opinion of His New Outfielder.

"The best-looking outfielder to break into the American league since the days of Cobb," is the complimentary manner in which Tris Speaker refers to young Homer Summa, who holds down right field for the Indians.

When you consider that Mr. Speaker is some outfielder himself, and that he came into the American league after Cobb, you get an even better idea of what the Cleveland manager thinks of the youngster.

"Unless Summa has a fault, or develops one that is not now apparent, one young man has a great chance to be a star in a year or two. He does everything well and will improve with each game he plays," continues Speaker.

Summa is a left-handed hitter, steps into the ball beautifully and takes a healthy cut. He is fast, has a good arm and handles himself well in the field.

Speaker, who says he is in great shape himself and looks it, believes that his legs will stay with him and that he will lose mighty few games this year.

"I have put them to every test so far and haven't felt the slightest pain or weakness. However, often some sudden start plays more havoc with a bad knee than all the hard tests you put it to.

"If I should have any trouble, Summa can play center field in great style and Frank Bower will look after right."

All of which proves the confidence Speaker has in Summa. Incidentally he feels that Summa won't have to shift to center very often.

Cancelling all his concert engagements and summoning members of his family, Ignace Paderewski, world famous pianist and former Prime Minister of Poland, rushed in his private car from Sioux City, Iowa, to Chicago to secure doctors and nurses for his pet Pekingese spaniel, Ping Lung. It has been rumored in Athens that two persons from the yacht Corsair, in which Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Morgan were touring the Mediterranean, had been murdered in Albania. Senator George W. Norris, of Nebraska, asked the Senate Committee on Agriculture why Henry Ford gave his support to President Coolidge after talking with the Chief Executive on his bid for Muscle Shoals. Elon B. Hooker, New York City financier, has also bid for a 50-year lease on Muscle Shoals, promising the Government $305,000,000 and the people liberal terms for fertilizer and hydro-electric power.

The advertiser can't afford to be afraid of becoming a bore. According to "Building," "the value of repetition should be sufficiently appreciated by the advertiser to prevent him from making a single plunge and then stopping."

Mabel Russell (Mrs. Philipson) is said to be suspected of disloyalty to the cause of woman because it is believed she will retire from Parliament in order to look after her three children. Apparently her "disloyalty" consists in putting the cause of the children first for a few years

According to another daily sentimentalist of the Dr. Frank Crane type, if you see an unknown man on a city street whose appearance appeals to you, you should walk right up to him and say "Howdy do, brother?" What you are to do when your familiarity is resented and you are suspected of being some kind of sharper on the make is, of course, left to the imagination.

Paris has a Club National des Liseres Verts, or Green Badge Club, an association to encourage marriage, particularly among clerks, stenographers and small-salaried employes generally. From all accounts such an organization is much needed, and if it can provide small dowries in large numbers it will help to raise an abnormally low birth rate Senator Wheeler says his indictment by the Montana grand jury is a "frame-up." How does he characterize his own indictment of the Department of Justice based on the testimony of murderers, bootleggers, train bandits, disgruntled ex-employes, prize fight grafters, and the like? Even if Senator Wheeler should eventually be proved innocent of the charges against him, he should not gag at a dose of his own medicine.

Five thousand war veterans have just completed their vocational training courses with the Veterans' Bureau, and it is now up to our business men to find employment for them. The training has covered a very wide diversity of subjects, and an application to the Bureau for a man qualified in almost any line of special work will meet with a prompt response Despite the thousands of individuals who have been graduated from the vocational courses, there are still about 70,000 now undergoing training They are receiving instruction in the best schools and the best shops in the country, and eventually will have an earning capacity equal to any in their chosen trade or profession.

Every voter in the country should find sufficient attraction in one or the other of the two major parties to command his support. Two-party government is the logical development of popular government—a party of administration and a party of opposition. Many members of each party may differ more or less with the policy platform of their organizations, but that is not sufficient reason for forming a third party. Carried to its conclusion, such a course would mean the complete disintegration of all parties. Few men think alike on every topic, hence, applying the third party theory, there is no chance of an organization strong enough to be felt in national affairs. Without compromise on the part of everyone our economic structure would soon give way to anarchy.

Canada has formally renounced any rights she may have had to Wrangel Island. In 1922 the British flag was raised over the island and an attempt was made to establish a colony. But only one of the adventurers survived, and neither Great Britain nor Canada has cared to follow up their effort to add the island to the British possessions. Now is an appropriate time for the United States to exhibit an interest in that territory. Wrangel Island was visited in 1881 by an American named Hooper, who formally took possession in the name of the United States. This country, however, seems never to have made any attempt to perfect its title. The island has an area of about 1,000 square miles, abounds in animal life, both on shore and in the surrounding waters, probably contains mineral resources of value, and is destined to become an important air station if transpolar flights are found to be feasible Why not add the island to Alaskan territory?

ATHLETICS FOR WOMEN.

I am sometimes asked whether or not I believe in athletics for women.

My general answer to that is "Yes."

But when it comes to athletic competition with the thousands of onlookers and the other things that go to make up an athletic meet, my mind is still open.

But as far as athletics are concerned, I believe every girl and woman should enter into them.

While I believe that the parent's idea of keeping the daughter always more or less in sight is a natural one, and a proper one, still it has certain drawbacks from the health standpoint.

Almost from the time a boy can walk he is off with the other boys to fish, to swim, to climb fences, and to play games. Absolute freedom of action.

Look at the clothes he wears, or doesn't wear In the summer just a shirt and a pair of pants He can run, jump, and do anything he pleases.

Your little girl is always dressed up, and mustn't muss her clothes.

As they become young men and women the matter of clothes is still a factor in the freedom of movement. A man wears trousers and so can hurry along the street, jump abroad a car or automobiles, or even a moving train

What about the woman?

Why first she has on dainty little shoes with high heels, and so must carefully balance herself, and a skirt that hampers her movements.

Now what is my point?

That if our girls and women folk are encouraged to go in for general athletics, walking, tennis, indoor baseball, basketball, hiking and so forth, they are going to dress themselves accordingly Good sensible shoes of ample width and a broad heel, that will permit a girl to step right out with perfect freedom of the muscles of the foot and leg. Her clothing will also give her freedom of action.

The result is that she will attain a balance and poise, which added to her natural gracefulness, will really make her more attractive than ever

And what about the health?

Why physicians will tell you that women are more affected by gall stones than men, due to their clothing and tight corsets. Their lung capacity is less in proportion to size and body weight than that of a man, due again to lack of breathing space, and real activity of the body. More of them suffer with cold hands and feet—evidences of poor muscular hearts due again to a lack of real "stepping out" on the part of women.

Athletics mean health of body a good complexion, because there will be freedom from the skin eruptions that go with intestinal laziness.

It will mean a buoyancy of spirits that will make her view life from its proper angle.

Yes, by all means encourage your little girl or your grown daughter to get into athletics, for the sake of her growing body.

Reading the Palm

"What," demanded the skeptic, "can you tell by looking at a person's hand?" "You can tell a good deal," said the palmist. "If a woman wears a platinum circlet on the third finger of her left hand she is just married. If she wears a plain gold band the marriage dates farther back If she wears a diamond ring on this finger she's engaged. If she's engaged she's probably in love. That's all women want to know about—love and marriage. Yes, by looking at a person's hand you can tell a good deal and surmise a whole lot more."—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Whales Face Extinction

So many whales are now being killed off the coasts of South Africa that appeals have been made to the Union government to restrict their taking to the larger size males. A total of 700 whales in a year were killed by companies operating out of South African ports and in the nearby waters. Whales are becoming scarcer and smaller as a result of unrestricted slaughter and it is now proposed to prohibit the killing of females and of all whales below a certain size, dependent on the species.

Griddles Made of Soapstone

Soapstone is a kind of rock ranging in color from bluish gray to green. Chemically it is composed of hydromagnesian mineral talc mixed with other minerals. Some soapstone is quite soft, being readily cut with a knife, but it is the harder kind which is used for griddles, sink lining and fire bricks. Such soapstone usually comes from North Carolina or Virginia. A soapstone griddle may be used almost the same as any other kind of griddle.

What Gift Like a Diamond

After all, there's nothing in jewels or jewelry that quite equals the diamond as a gift.

To the one you love best, a diamond for Easter is the one wonderful gift.

In an advertisement we cannot tell you much about such stones. No two are just alike. We have them in every form of setting, and if we do not have the setting you want, we will get it.

As a gift that will last, nothing equals the diamond. Other jewels may come and go in their vogue, but the diamond never goes.

Consider the value you may secure in a stone of excellent size set in a hand carved white gold mounting, priced at $125.00.

We can give you a ring with a clear stone for less than that, or if you want to pay more, we will give you the same exceptional value that we give at other prices.

In buying a diamond from us you know you are getting full value and a perfectly reliable stone.

YEAR-ROUND SCHOOL FAILURE IN NEWARK

Pupils Need Rest to Assimilate Education.

New York.—Schools must close for the summer vacation if the children are both to get and assimilate their education, Dr. David B. Corson, superintendent of schools in Newark, reported in a survey of all-year instruction. Several of the schools in Newark tried the twelve-months' system, the experiment proving a failure, said Dr. Corson.

The all-year pupils were expected to complete the public school work in six years. Instead, it was found they were graduated at an average age of fourteen seven-tenths years. The small difference was more than offset in the superior physical and mental state of the latter group, Doctor Corson asserted.

Particularly noticeable is the defect in the all-year school when the boys and girls are ready for high school work, the superintendent said. A large proportion of them, through being "forced," have been "left back" and retarded in other ways during the primary grades work. On reaching high school their deficiencies become more obvious, and there is a large percentage of "mortality," or dropping from classes, among them.

One argument that favored the all-year school was a greater economy to the school board and city. Doctor Corson strongly denied that any such saving accrued. Had it been possible to graduate the pupils in the six years, as was contemplated, this saving would have been met. In view of the failure to accomplish this, the expenses proved as great as, if not greater than, the vacation school system.

Doctor Corson's report was originally read before the meeting of the department of superintendence of the National Education association. His experience tended to end the putting forth of suggestions to apply modern efficiency methods to primary children, or to force education by hothouse methods.

In the all-year school there are five reorganizations of classes in the course of each twelve-month period. These cause considerable confusion in the matter of examinations, acquiring of new teachers and turning to a new subject, to be taught in a slightly different method.

Irish Potato Registers First in Food Contest

St. Louis, Mo.—The Irish potato registered first with 8,100 votes in a food popularity contest conducted in the public schools of six Nodaway county (Mo) towns in a recent nutrition campaign. Under the auspices of the Nodaway County Red Cross chapter the voting was by the pupils, who scored one vote for each vegetable eaten at every meal during the seven days of the contest. Each day the votes were reported to the chapter headquarters at Maryville.

The final canvas of the votes listed twenty vegetables, registered as follows: potato, 8,100; onion, 3,179; sweet potato, 2,539; tomato, 2,191; navy beans, 2,139; cabbage, 2,055; turnip, 1,639; celery, 1,597; pepper, 1,457; corn, 1,323; lima bean, 912; beet, 884; lettuce, 836; squash, 755; peas, 649; string bean, 642; spinach, 589; carrot, 461; parsnip, 391; cauliflower, 252.

All Starvation Is Not Due to Lack of Food

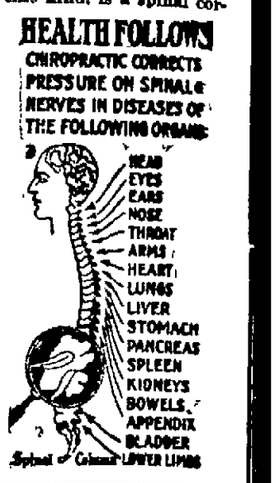

Weekly Health Talk
By Froude & Mac Kinnon, D's. C.

The biggest cause of starvation is not lack of food. The biggest cause of starvation is lack of digestive health. There are several causes of stomach failure, most of which, such as overeating and bad food combinations, are well known. But in this talk, we are concerned only with one particular cause—lack of digestive vigor.

Where spinal nerve derangements are responsible for a lack of digestive vigor, neither a vacation in the mountains, a daily round of golf, or a diet of baby food, is of any benefit. In fact, the cause lies inside the body, and no amount of coddling or nursing, exercise or care, will have any effect. When there is pressure on spinal nerves to the stomach, there is steady loss of strength, and nervousness The only correction in a case of this kind, is a spinal correction, such as is obtainable by those who make use of our chiropractic health method

TROUBLE PERSISTED FOR YEARS

"My stomach was in very bad condition I could eat no kind of food, without distressing after effects My strength steadily declined. I could not walk more than a few yards without being ready to drop with exhaustion Then after years of this, I was advised to try chiropractic. Today I enjoy my food as any normal man should, and I have no fear of the future, and I can walk all day without fatigue. I am quite cured of my ailment"—Bramwell G Coultas, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No 1377C.

Checkers

In England the game of checkers is known as draughts; in France, jeu des dames; Holland, damrod; Poland, dama; in the Arabic of Egypt, damah. The recurrence of the forms of "dame" is attributed to the fact that part of the board and some of the draughts of Queen Hatasa, daughter of Thothmes, who lived in Egypt 1600 B. C., were found.

ONE TIME DRUDGERY AND DISCOMFORT OF HOUSECLEANING IS NO MORE

The Vacuum Cleaner With Its Many Useful Attachments is the Housewife's Handy-Man and Her Greatest Help During the Annual Cleaning Orgy.

Moving van and housecleaning days are upon us and the sound of the carpet-beater is heard in the land.

Question—What's wrong with the above statement?

Answer — The above statement should read "The sound of the vacuum cleaner is heard in the land!"

And that, everyone must admit, is one hundred per cent correct answer, for carpet beaters are out, and vacuum cleaners with their wonderful propensity for collecting dust and dirt from the most obscure corners, have come in—to stay.

Different Cleaners Accomplish Different Results.

Many and varied are the types of cleaners which are being marketed, and one's selection should be based on the nature of the work to be performed. There are "deep cleaners" with a motor driven brush that excel in sweeping action, there is the traction driven brush type and those of the stationary brush and last, the brushless cleaner which accomplishes its work by suction.

A baby vac that is said to work miracles on clothing, upholstered furniture and automobile interiors, is now to be had and as this infant prodigy weighs but three pounds it proves a highly desirable household tool for the average woman.

This little cleaner which perhaps might better be called an electrical whisk broom, will save many a cleaner's bill for winter clothing. Your winter coat may be perfectly brushed by merely running the nozzle lightly over the fabric and having the dirt sucked into the bag. You will be a bit scandalized to see what your best velvet, sealskin or deep, soft wool coat will give up under such treatment. To clean such garments thoroughly, spread over the ironing board and go over them carefully.

This convenient tool should be frequently cleaned as long threads or hairs collect easily and greatly lessen the efficiency of the brush.

We Receive a Letter Telling of New Uses.

Read what one housewife has to say about her new regular size vacuum cleaner.

Dear Miss Sears:

My new vacuum cleaner arrived and of course I have been trying all sorts of experiments with it. I've even discovered some new uses for it in addition to the ones you suggested to me and thought perhaps you would be like to know about them. I use it for all the tasks it was intended to perform any many more about which its inventor doubtless never dreamed.

For instance, some time ago I noticed our piano was losing much of its tonal quality. To my surprise the expert we called in to inspect it told me that moths had completely destroyed the felt on the hammers, and they would have to be refelted at considerable cost before the tone of the piano would be restored. To say the least I was mortified for I knew that it is dust or dirt that usually attracts these pests. But I bravely demanded "How could the moths get in there?"

"The fact is, that a piano is a greater 'catch-all' for dust than most people realize. It seeps in through the front boards of an upright, and under the raised top of a grand, and unless it is promptly expelled draws moths," he told me.

"But how does one keep the felt clean?" I demanded.

"Oh, easily enough, if you have an electric cleaner."

I assured him I had one.

"Then all you have to do is open the piano about every two or three months and use the cleaner on it. But be sure also to remove all the dust from the sounding board and strings as well as the felted hammers," he advised. I've tried it since and it works wonderfully.

We have an open fire place and here the cleaner also comes in handy, for it will keep the ashes from working into the crevices between bricks and in cracks of the flooring in front.

I also use the cleaner to transfer feathers from one pillow slip to another. One need only remove the dust bag, let the motor run several seconds to clear it, attach the empty pillow slip to that end and insert the sweeper end into the feathers. The transfer will be accomplished in no time. The latest use I have found for it is to dry damp surfaces like the basement floor, and painted and varnished walls and floors. I wonder now how I ever got along without it.

Mrs. G. T. W.

We were glad indeed to learn of this excellent idea for removing dust from the piano and add to it our own discovery that all draperies that cannot be washed should be thoroughly vacuum cleaned before they are taken down and replaced with lighter summer hangings. The dangers from moths is greatly lessened if this is done.

They say that lazy people were the first efficiency experts because, through their disinclination to do things in a way that required much effort, they thought up easier ways of accomplishing them.

Be that as it may, it is certain that anyone who sets out to make the head save the heels usually does some highly constructive thinking and much it gained thereby.

A young matron of our acquaintance was not lazy, but possessed of a great distaste for dusting. She loathed all dusting, but particularly she disliked the tedious job of keeping the radiators free from the little rolls of lint and webs that gather between the pipes. Casting about for a way out of this detested task, she hit upon the plan of using her vacuum cleaner with the attachment for cleaning upholstered furniture. It worked—and perfecting her scheme, she laid a dampened cloth over the top of the radiator to catch the flying particles as they were blown out.

And so it goes. Every day brings to light some new use for this greatest of labor saving appliances.

Make Good Use of the Attachments.

Don't neglect to make use of the tools that accompany your cleaner. You are missing one of the machines best services unless you use them on a mattress, overstuffed furniture, draperies and sofa cushions, door lintels, box springs and every spot where dust can accumulate.

The vacuum cleaner is within every woman's reach, and all dirt and dust, high up or low down, surface or ground in, is within its reach, once you have connected the cord with the lamp socket or convenience outlet.

HOUSECLEAN ELECTRICALLY TO SAVE TIME AND LABOR

A few years ago, housecleaning meant about one-fourth actual cleaning and three-fourths extra labor necessitated by broom-sweeping—its symbol was the dust cap. Today an entire housecleaning can be accomplished without even the fashionable bandeau having to be called in aid in binding one's stray locks—and the symbol of this new era is the electric switch.

For upholstered furniture or the mattress the wide nozzle suction attachment of the vacuum cleaner is used.

TODAY'S DINNER AND TOMORROW'S LUNCH

A New Italian Dish Called Risotto Meets With Favor and Is Easy To Prepare.

In the spring veal should cost less than in the winter and makes a savory as well as digestible meal. Stuffed shoulder of veal is good either hot or cold, and the left-overs from it can be made into a variety of appetizing dishes.

Stuffed Shoulder of Veal
Risotto Spinach
Apple Short Cake

* * * *

Stuffed Shoulder of Veal.

Your butcher should remove the bone from a shoulder of veal and send the bone home with the meat. This bone should be cracked and used with the trimmings from the veal to make stock for soup. Prepare a stuffing for the shoulder from a cupful of bread crumbs, quarter of a pound of fat salt pork, minced fine, half a teaspoonful of onion juice, a teaspoonful of chopped parsley and a pinch of black pepper. The pork supplies sufficient salt for the stuffing. Pack this into the cavity left by the removal of the bone and sew up the opening or pin it together with a skewer. Lay the meat in the baking pan and over the top of the roast arrange thin slices of fat pork. Have your oven hot ten minutes before the veal goes in and keep it so for ten minutes longer; then lower the heat part way and leave it there until the meat is done, allowing sixteen minutes to the pound. Veal is so dry a meat that it needs the addition of pork in some form and it requires long cooking in order that it be thoroughly done. Underdone veal is most unwholesome. If it seems to be browning too fast turn the gas lower when the time for roasting is half over. Fifteen minutes before the meat is to be taken out remove the pork from the top, brush the surface lightly with butter, pepper and salt it, dredge with flower and let this brown. Skim the fat from the liquid left in the pan, thicken with browned flour, season with a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce and send to table in a gravy boat.

Veal Croquettes.

Chop fine two cupfuls of cold veal. Rub together a tablespoonful of butter and one of flour and put them in a small saucepan. Stir the contents of the saucepan and as soon as they begin to bubble pour on them a scant cupful of milk and ten drops of onion juice. When the sauce is thick take it from the range, add to it the chopped meat, seasoned well with salt, pepper and half a teaspoonful of onion juice. Turn out on a platter or broad plate and set aside to get cold and stiff. When this state is reached form the mixture into croquettes with the hands, roll them in fine crumbs, then in an egg beaten with a tablespoonful of cold water and then in crumbs again. Leave them in the cold for fifteen minutes, then fry them in deep fat to a golden brown. Drain on soft paper in a colander and serve. Make your croquettes rather small, about the size of large wine-bottle corks.

THE CONVENIENCE OF CONVENIENCE OUTLETS

What An Outlet Is and a Few of the Things It Can Do For You.

The term "convenience outlet" is a perfectly natural one, designating as it does, the flow of electricity out of a fixture and into the home where it adds to the convenience of every room in the house.

All roads may lead to Rome, but all electricity need not come out of a lamp socket. An electric iron is an untold blessing —but how many of us have blessed, in no uncertain terms, the cord that dangled in knots from the lamp fixture overhead? A wall outlet placed at just the right height will eliminate this trouble once and for all. Your electrician can advise you as to just what the right height should be for you.

In every rom there should be a baseboard outlet for the use of the vacuum cleaner. In the living room a duplex or double baseboard outlet may be utilized for the floor lamp of phonograph motor, electric fan, percolator and samovar, or to light the electric fire place logs.

Table cookery in the dining room does much to lighten the kitchen duties of today's servantless housewife. It is practiced with grace and ease when electric table aids are used. Here the wiring might provide a wall outlet near the buffet for buffet lamps, plate warmer, percolator or vacuum cleaner, and a wired dining table with outlets for the use of toaster, grill and waffle iron.

For bedroom comfort a push button for controlling lights, a wall outlet which can be used interchangeably for wall light or hair dryer, curling iron, etc., a baseboard outlet for boudior lamp, violet ray set, radiant heater, vibrator or vacuum cleaner and a wall outlet near the bed for heating pad, immersion heater or fan, are suggested.

Besides the lights on each side of the mirror, one wall outlet is enough for the bathroom, and one baseboard outlet and two wall outlets placed at different heights will take care of the kitchen needs.

For convenience plus have plenty of outlets installed when wiring your home. Without them it is impossible to know the maximum of electrical efficiency.

Risotto.

Fry a small sliced onion brown in a tablespoonful of butter or of pork or beef dripping. In Italy, the original home of this dish, olive oil would be used. When the fat is hot add to it a pint of hot water and a cupful of unpolished rice, which has been washed and picked over. After the rice has been added, let it boil until soft, adding a little more water if the first supply cooks away before the rice is done. Free a cupful of stewed tomato from lumps, put with it a teaspoonful of sugar and stir into the rice. When this is soft season with a teaspoonful of salt and a little pepper, turn into a hot dish, strew over it a tablespoonful of grated cheese and serve.

The Left-Overs.

Cold veal lends itself to many uses. It is excellent sliced thin and served with lettuce and French or mayonnaise dressing. Cut into small cubes mixed with half as much diced celery and with mayonnaise it is a fair substitute for chicken salad. It may be sliced and warmed up in left-over veal gravy, or in tomato sauce, or diced and converted into a savory scallop. One of its best appearances may be in croquettes.

SALT LAKE WATER LEVEL IS GRADUALLY RISING

Depth That Pioneers Found in 1847 May Be Reached, U. S. Expert Asserts.

Contrary to the belief that Great Salt lake was drying up, the water in the lake is gradually rising and, in the opinion of J. Cecil Alter, in charge of the United States weather bureau at Salt Lake City, Utah, it will reach the level it was at when the Mormon pioneers first came in 1847.

Government statistics show that the lake, which is 100 miles long and 40 miles wide, had an average depth of 15 feet 10 inches in 1868. From that time until 1903 the water gradually lowered until it reached only a few inches. However, it has been steadily rising since reaching its low level, and now the average depth is 6 feet 4 inches.

Great Salt lake is said to be what is left of ancient Lake Bonneville, which at one time covered most of what is now Utah and part of Nevada. The old shore lines of Lake Bonneville are still visible on the hills around Salt Lake City.

The gradual rise of the lake is causing considerable trouble to railroads and farmers. The former have been obliged to raise their tracks and farmers who settled on the shores of the lake when the water was down have had to desert some of their land which is being gradually submerged.

The water of Great Salt lake is about 20 per cent salt, and it is estimated that should all the water be evaporated for the salt content about 100,000,000 tons of the product would be obtainable. The lake is popular for bathing because the water is so buoyant that it is possible to stay afloat without effort. There is no marine life in the lake because of the salty condition of the water and the suggestion that fish be planted there has been discarded by experts.

Twice Divorced in One Day, Her Experience

A divorce decree and an annulment were obtained on the same day by pretty Mrs. William Cloudman De Vinney of Los Angeles, who had remarried, believing her husband dead, and later discovered that she had committed bigamy, as No. 1 was still alive. She announces that she will remarry De Vinney as soon as she can obtain a final decree from Cloudman, her first husband.

Accept Gift of Land for Shasta Forest

A tract of land situated within the Shasta national forest of California and owned by Miss Mary Burt Brittan, of San Francisco, has been given to the federal government and accepted by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace under authority given by congress. It will form a part of the Shasta forest.

The tract involved comprises 300 acres and was a favorite camping place of Miss Brittan's brother, Judge William Giles Brittan, now deceased. Notwithstanding the land's high market value, Miss Brittan preferred to donate it to the national forest system for public use as a memorial to her brother.

The forest service, United States Department of Agriculture plans to make the donated tract attractive to campers and will encourage its use for all recreational purposes to carry out the wishes of the donor. Castle lake, a good-sized body of water, is located within the donated area and adds greatly to its recreational value. One of the prettiest views obtainable of Mount Shasta, about fifteen miles away, can be had from the shores of this lake.

Screen of Smoke Used Instead of Circus Tent

Those who lined their cars up along the Galveston roadside to get a free peep of the "stunts" of the Gates Flying Circus which was repeated at Ellington field, near Houston, Tex., did their gazing through a dense smoke screen. To halt the pastime of the "nonpayers" a smoke screen three miles long was laid down the Galveston road. The smoke came from phosphorus oxide. It is very dense and has a disagreeable odor. It is the same "screen" used by the army and navy. It falls to the ground and remains there.

Silver Plating Easy

Silver plating that, according to its inventor, can easily be applied at home to worn-off silverware, is now on the market.

THE OFFICE CAT

By Junius

A thing of beauty is always a great expense.

If some men would conceal what they know they would be more popular.

Life would be one grand sweet song, if it was as easy to earn money as it is to spend it.

The way to make an ideal husband is to begin spanking him for selfishness at the age of three.

Girls and billiard balls kiss each other, with about the same amount of real feeling.

Even in leap year a man is free to select the thumb he will dwell under.

Redbirds or no redbirds, spring has come, carols Gladys. After consuming a part of her cafeteria luncheon the other day she saw a dreamy-eyed young man walk off and leave his cherry pie a la mode.

You don't have to be a dentist to get on people's nerve.

Everything comes to those who wait on themselves.

Work is all right, if a person has enough spare time to do it.

It always seem to be the other fellow who is stubborn.

Rivals for the next Republican nomination seem to be afraid that the president's nickname is merely a short one for "Calculating."

After all, success may be mere happiness.

You can judge a town by the sum of money required to make a man an important citizen.

"Bang."

"Give me the right to love you," said the romantic young man.

"I'll give you the right and a couple of lefts too," replied the prize fighter's daughter, as she knocked him for a four-base hit.

The energy expended on any basketball court in playing the few minutes the game requires would prepare the ground and plant a hundred acres of wheat. But the difference is because there is no one paying a good admission to sit on the side lines to watch you plow and sow.

What has become of the family man who used tallow candles exclusively and argued that electric lights were awfully hard on a person's eyes?

With waves of advice on how to live to 100 passing over the country one is reminded of Blankville and the Linker twins.

The native of Blankville pointed with pride to two doddering ancients hobling down the village street and informed an out-of-town visitor:

"Them fellers is the Linker twins—99 years old!" The visitor was duly impressed, and to appear interested asked to what the twins attributed their long life.

"Wall," was the response, "Jake declares it's because of his chewin' and smokin' day in an' day out, fer nigh onto a hundred year an' Obadiah avows he has his health because he never touched the filthy weed."

SOCIAL WELFARE WORKERS TO MEET AT ALBANY.

Welfare workers of this section are interested in the twelfth annual gathering of the Capital District Conference of Social Welfare, which will take place Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ten Eyck Hotel in Albany. Four sessions have been planned, opening Tuesday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock and closing Wednesday afternoon.

Case Adjourned.

The Mandonini case, which was scheduled for Thursday afternoon, April 17, was adjourned by consent of counsel before Police Justice Clyde F. Gardner in police court, Saugerties, until Thursday afternoon, April 24. Surrogate George F. Kaufman and Chris J. Flanagan represented the defendant and the People respectively.

New Honor for Hasbrouck.

Kenneth W. Hasbrouck, of Kingston, who is taking a course in electrical engineering at the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, was recently elected vice president of the L. C. R. "There's the car for us!"

"We Wanted"	"We Found"
—a reliable engine, smooth and powerful	—that the Oakland six-cylinder engine is the sweetest-running and most capable engine in its class. Its advanced design is very evident;
—a smart distinctive car	—that the True Blue Oakland, with its body by Fisher, is by far the best looking car within our price range;
—a safer car for us all	—that four-wheel brakes, centralized controls, automatic spark advance, and disc wheels definitely mark the Oakland as a safer car to drive;
—an enduring body finish	—that Oakland uses a remarkable new finish—Duco—which lasts indefinitely and does not mar or check;
—all-season touring car	—that Oakland's new permanent top insures tight-fitting curtains and, if we wish, a snug Glass Enclosure, which at slight extra cost gives closed car comfort;
—most car for our money	—that, considering its advanced construction, the True Blue Oakland Six, at its remarkably low price, is unquestionably the car for us.

CHILDREN'S SERVICE AT TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH.

A large attendance of children and adults was noted at the special Good Friday children's service held on Good Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Trinity Lutheran Church. The full church service was rendered. During the reading of the seven words of Christ the bell was tolled each time. William H. Pretzsch, Jr., the pastor's son, officiated at the organ. Each child received a little celluloid pin with a cross on it, in remembrance of the day. The object of the service was to impress upon the minds of the children the importance of worship on Good Friday.

Supper at Flatbush.

The third group of the ladies of the Flatbush Reformed Church will give a roast fresh ham supper at the club house, Flatbush, on Tuesday, April 22, from 6 to 9 p. m. Price, 60 cents. Ice cream for sale. Menu: Roast fresh ham, brown gravy, mashed potatoes, carrots and peas, cabbage, peppers and celery salad, rolls, coffee, pickles and jelly, apple pie.

BUILD UP WEIGHT BEST SPRING TONIC

Recommends Burke's COD LIVER OIL Combined with IRON in Pleasant Tablet Form.

If the winter has gone hard with you and a hard cold or a steady cough has weakened and run you down so fast you are below what you should weigh, don't wait too long about starting to build yourself up. Many people allow themselves to drift into a long spell of sickness just because they neglect such a condition as this in the early Spring months

First find out exactly how much you weigh Then compare with the method physicians use to determine if you are underweight. It is very easy to do this and will bring you great satisfaction to know for sure whether the reason for your feeling all run-down and tired out is due to your being underweight Figure that a person 5 feet in height should weigh 110 pounds For every inch you are over 5 feet in height, add 5½ pounds. Thus, if you find that you are 5 feet 6 inches in height, your normal weight should be 110 pounds plus 6 times 5½, which is 143 pounds

If this experiment shows that you do not weigh as much as you should, begin at once to take Burke's COD LIVER OIL and IRON in pleasant tablet form. You can procure this latest scientific tonic and blood maker from any reliable druggist. A full 15 day treatment is guaranteed to give satisfactory results or the purchase price will be refunded

Stop falling hair!

Money Back If It Doesn't

Scalp specialists will tell you the big problem with scalp ailments is to get the people to form a consistent habit of taking care of their hair.

Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage comes in a patented bottle with a special rubber applicator attached. The method of application is easy—and cleanly. The medicament is fed through rubber nipples directly to the roots of the hair while the scalp is gently massaged. One minute a day with Van Ess stops falling hair, relieves itching scalp and grows new hair. Ask about 30-day treatment plan. We give you a positive guarantee.

TWO COATS IN ONE FASHION'S LATEST WHIM

(By Eleanor Gunn.)

The last call for a new coat for Easter warns the anxious shopper to avoid anything which has a tendency to overdecoration. There are extraordinary models in the shops which have such unusual talking points as being two in one models for instance.

One of the cleverest of these has an undercoat of printed crepe bordered with a narrow fur and over it all a navy twill section which is trim and tailored and cut so that the crepe coat beneath introduces a line of color below the cloth. This is repeated down the front and at the edge of the bell sleeves. Just why one should wear two coats instead of one is not quite clear but it has certainly the charm of novelty.

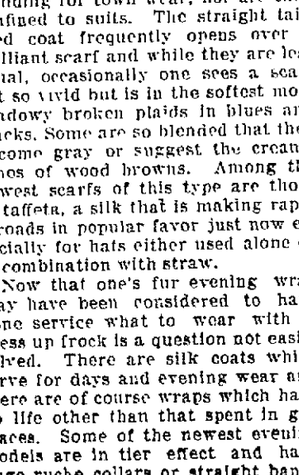

When the scarf first burst upon our vision in all its bright array of color it was regarded strictly as a sports accessory, but since then scarfs have been designed which are in excellent standing for town wear, nor are they confined to suits. The straight tailored coat frequently opens over a brilliant scarf and while they are less usual, occasionally one sees a scarf not so vivid but is in the softest most shadowy broken plaids in blues and blacks. Some are so blended that they become gray or suggest the creamy tones of wood browns. Among the newest scarfs of this type are those of taffeta, a silk that is making rapid inroads in popular favor just now especially for hats either used alone or in combination with straw.

Now that one's fur evening wrap may have been considered to have done service what to wear with a dress up frock is a question not easily solved. There are silk coats which serve for days and evening wear and there are of course wraps which have no life other than that spent in gay places. Some of the newest evening models are in tier effect and have huge ruche collars or straight bands which elongate themselves into scarfs. Hand painted crepes, headed silks and of course brocades are among the materials most often chosen and fur is retained although many prefer ostrich clipped or in fringed effects or boas.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Popular Play Suit.

4706. Quite as much a favorite with children as the "one piece dress" with grown ups, is the romper dress. The style here portrayed may be finished with wrist length or elbow sleeves. As here shown brown wool repp was used, with collar, sleeve and leg bands embroidered with dots in red worsted. This is a good style for pongee, gingham and chambray.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 2, 4, 6 and 8 years. A 4 year size requires 2¾ yards of 32 inch material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

JACKIE COOGAN in Long Live the King

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

No star, old or young, has ever been seen in a finer picture. Jackie outdoes himself in this, the most charming story ever to reach the screen.

THE BOY THAT IS LOVED BY MILLIONS IN HIS GREATEST ROLE

A romance of golden youth, royal love and thrilling adventure, in which Jackie appears as the boy prince of everybody's dreams amid the sensational intrigue of a Balkan court. It is a magnificent production, reflecting the romantic splendor of a far-off kingdom, and Jackie as Crown Prince Otto, has the biggest role of his career.

COLUMBUS MAP FOUND BY FRENCH CURATOR.

M. DE LA RONCIERE and COLUMBUS' MAP

M. de la Ronciere, curator of the French National Library in Paris, is shown with the Columbus map recently found in the library. The map is believed to have been drawn by Barthelemy Columbus, brother of the discoverer of America, and to have been used by Christopher Columbus himself. M. de la Ronciere had been examining the map while completing a history of Africa and found it registered as a rare specimen of the 16th century Portuguese map. Closer inspection revealed faint inscriptions which identified it as the real Columbus map and showed the ancient Italian name for Cape Verde Islands.

Old Paris Attributed Big Floods to Its Sins

Paris' problem of how to fight the floods goes back to the remote days when, a fortified camp on a river island, the Lutetia of Caesar, it looked out on a panorama of marsh and forest.

It is not surprising to find that its early inhabitants attributed its flood disasters not to its geographical position but to its sins, and so in the inundations that wrought terrible havoc in the first half of the Eighth century the favorite remedy was a religious procession with the relics of St. Geneviere, a form of intercession against divine wrath which has been frequently practiced in the less enlightened Latin countries much nearer our own times. But once at least the floods were accepted as an intervention of Providence. In 886 the Seine rose when the Normans were besieging Paris, many of them were drowned and they had forthwith to raise the siege. 'May the Seine water give you new wigs—and better combed," was the taunt which the monkish chronicler poet Abbo afterward addressed to the foiled warriors.

Much as Paris has suffered in modern floods—the damage sustained in these visitations has been trifling compared with that inflicted by the invading waters in 1296, when stone bridges were swept away, public buildings crumbled, and, as an old chronicler says, "men went in boats over the wall of the king's garden," over a great area the upper stories of the houses rose out of a vast lake. The then larger Paris suffered even more in the flood of 1658. Bridges were carried away, streets became running streams, houses collapsed in ruin and many people were drowned. The inhabitants seem to have taken these troubles with an amazing philosophy The flood last mentioned came at the time of the carnival, which was held despite the disaster. A contemporary diarist joyously remarks that there would have been more masks had it not been for the conduct of Mme. la Seine It was after the 1658 flood that the first attempts were made to bridle Mme. la Seine's caprices Some canals were cut. But two and a half centuries later madam is still out of hand.—Manchester Guardian.

Black Hole of Calcutta

The "Black Hole of Calcutta" was an apartment in which 156 English prisoners, captured by the Nawab Siraj-ud-Daula, were confined over night of June 20, 1756. This apartment was 18 feet by 14 feet and 10 inches. It had only two small windows, obstructed by a veranda. The crush was dreadful, and after a night of terrible suffering from pressure, heat, thirst and want of air, there were left alive in the morning only 23 survivors.

First to Tattoo Bodies

The South Sea Islanders were the first people to tattoo their bodies. There is a superstition among sailors and men of the sea that animals tattooed on their bodies ward off the evil spirits of the sea. A pig, for instance, on the left instep, was supposed to keep the wearer from drowning.

Latest in Stethoscope

An instrument has been developed known as a microphone stethoscope, to test the heart action of a person. Beats of the heart can be plainly heard at a distance of 50 feet, and by means of a strong amplifier it is possible to broadcast heart beats by radio.

Life in a Dead Hand

The dead hand is often a busy little mitt in these days of speedy finance. It works a full 24 hours in the day and brings results. We refer to mortmain in a broad sense as signifying funds functioning "on their own," as it were, without the disturbing influence of human timidities and eccentricities.

As the case in point there was the A. Barton Hepburn estate of something over $7,000,000 which, because of the intricacies of its settlement, remained for a few months in process of liquidation, says the New Orleans Times-Picayune. Mr. Hepburn died January 25, 1922, at which time the property was carefully appraised at $7,440,537. Recently an accounting of the executors was approved by the court, showing that since the decedent's passing the increment to his estate has been $1,738,945.

At the present time most of the estate has been distributed, but there are still possibilities of further gains by a kind of retroactivity of the power of money. The proverbial green bay tree has nothing on funds that are wisely placed, in wise control, by those who, realizing their end is near, wish to make wisest provision for their heirs.

Picking Them

A commercial traveler visiting a Glasgow warehouse made a bet with the manager that he would pick out all the married men among the employees.

Accordingly he stationed himself at the door as they returned from dinner, and mentioned all those whom he believed to be married. In almost every case he was right

"How do you do it?" asked the manager.

"Oh, it's quite simple," said the traveler. "The married men wipe their feet on the mat; the single ones don't."

Hat Sizes

A drama from the shop counter:

Enter a woman and a lad. "I want a hat for my boy," she announced

"Yes, ma'am; what size does he wear?"

"Nine-ten-elevens," she answered.

"What size is that?" asked the astonished hatter. "I'm afraid we don't stock it."

"Well," snapped the woman, "the last one he had was six-seven-eights, and he wants a size bigger. I suppose that will be nine-ten-elevens, won't it?"

Isaiah Street Row

When the city authorities of Jerusalem recently named a little street after the Prophet Isaiah the Jewish council immediately protested that the propnet surely deserved to have a more pretentious street bear his name. And so, according to a German newspaper report, a lively controversy was started.—New York Times.

Paying His Debts

Doctor—Young man, you owe your very remarkable recovery to your wife's tender care.

The Patient—It's kind of you to tell me, doc. I shall make out the check to my wife.—Life.

The Sarcasticist

"You claim to be kind hearted, and yet you are sarcastic."

"Sarcasm," said Miss Cayenne, "is usually an effort to make a gentle suggestion meet a state of affairs that by rights demands a severe reproof."—Washington Evening Star.

VENTRILOQUIST WROTE OF HIS ART

Nicholson Famous in Days of French Restoration.

We ran across a theatrical curiosity a few days ago, says J. Vivian in Le Petit Parisien It was one of those occasions of innocent pleasure which sometimes come to the hunters of rare plays and concerned the discovery of the memoirs of an "artiste" who enjoyed considerable fame at the time of the restoration — the ventriloquist, Nicholson.

Nicholson always began his performance with an act that made a great sensation He appeared to be on the point of reciting a poem, but had barely opened his mouth when voices seemed to come from all parts of the house, interrupting him. For instance, there would be a lively argument between a spectator who was supposed to be in a balcony and some imaginary person in the orchestra; then an altercation would arise in the wings. Finally, the star would reveal the fact that he was doing all the talking himself.

In his memoirs Nicholson discourses on ventriloquism as a fine art, one of the first masters of which was Brabant, Francis I's valet de chambre He insists that the ventriloquist must maintain himself at a high level of morality By virtue of the fact that he displays a sort of miraculous power, he must enter upon his career only with honest intentions.

Nicholson prided himself on the fact that on several occasions, thanks to his art, he succeeded in winning back frivolous minds to right thinking Thus, once, when he was a guest at an Italian monastery, it appeared to him that the monks were concerning themselves too much with material things and were more careful of their personal well-being than their spiritual grace He decided, therefore, to give them a warning

One day on a chapel a weird voice was heard complaining in mournful accents It was apparent to the terrified monks that a former prior who had died long since in the odor of sanctity was warning them from his tomb that they were threatened with the eternal flames The conversion was complete and edifying, he assures us

Nicholson also maintained that ventriloquism could be a consolator in time of trouble. A young woman had been married to a naval officer and was in despair because a long time had passed without any word from him. Informed of the facts the worthy Nicholson imitated the voice of the absent husband, giving cheerful messages and thus reassuring the lamenting spouse. "The young woman," he declares, "was miraculously cured" He insists that she was actually threatened with madness and that this malady was averted by the supposed voice of her husband.

The ventriloquist does not tell us, however, whether the wandering sailor ever returned.

Kind of Trailer

A German inventor has perfected a handy trailer for bicycles or motor vehicles, especially designed for the householder. It is in the shape of a rubber-tired disk, which may be attached to any vehicle. It is so constructed that it can be opened at one side and stored with a considerable load. It is popular among students, for instance, who have to carry several books and who use bicycles.

Invisible Tow-Line

In automobile racing there is an invisible tow-line. This so-called tow exists only on the board tracks in speeds of better than 90 miles an hour. It is the suction of the machine in front caused as it travels through space and can be likened very much to an inverted funnel. If the car back of it can keep within the space which would be equivalent to the apout of the funnel it is taken along at the same rate of speed as the car which is creating this vacuum. This method of riding is used quite often by the slower cars Its disadvantage is that the motor picking up such a tow has no means of cooling and the motor is inclined to overheat very quickly.

Missing Persons Reappear

The kidnaping of Charley Ross many years ago constituted for a time a "celebrated case" The disappearance of Dorothy Arnold formed another But it seems, according to a report of the National Association of Travelers' Aid Societies, that hundreds of similar cases occur every year. No fewer than 900 women and girls utterly disappeared in the United States last year. What tragedy swallowed them up, whether they are living or dead, is not known to officials, family or friends. Of the many thousands of men, women and children who annually disappear, however, it is gratifying to find that about 92 per cent are finally found alive.

Indians Had No Horses

The Indians had dogs but not horses before the white men came. The Indian dog was little different from the tamed wolf from which it is supposed to have sprung Eskimos were using dogs for transportation when first white men arrived. Though fossils of the forerunner of the horse have been found in America, it is now generally believed that these animals became extinct many thousands of years ago and that all horses used by the Indians were descendants of Spanish horses. Cortez brought horses to Mexico and De Soto is known to have abandoned a large number of horses near the Texas border.

Strong Bank-Note Paper

The secret of making the linen tissue for Bank of England notes has been kept for 200 years by the trusted employees of one firm. Of a peculiar whiteness, the paper is so tough that a folded note can sustain the weight of 50 pounds without tearing. In the days before postal orders became common, it was customary, when sending money by mail, to cut a note in halves, inclose the first with the invoice and await acknowledgment before parting with the second.—Popular Mechanics.

New Auto Signal

A new rear signal for automobiles displays the word "slow" in green light when either the clutch or brake pedal or brake is operated and "stop" in red when both are used.

Any More for Free Movies?

There has been a splendid response to the invitation extended by the management of Keeney's Theater to the crippled children, orphans and poor children of Kingston and vicinity to attend the Easter party which will be given absolutely free at Keeney's Theater Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Since the announcement that there was going to be a big theater party for the kiddies with ice cream, candy and other good things there has been a stream of replies received from children all over the city and surrounding country accepting the invitation.

The picture is little Jackie Coogan in "Long Live the King," a story by Mary Roberts Rinehart.

If by chance it is impossible for some child to come alone any parent or guardian who desires to come along with the child and care for it during the party will be admitted free with the child

Women from the Federation of Women's Clubs of the city will be on hand to assist in caring for the children and chaperon them.

The children of the Industrial Home will attend the Easter party. Any one who knows of a crippled child or a child who has no means of getting to a movie or who can't afford to see a picture, send in the name and address and a car will be on hand Monday afternoon in time to convey the deserving one to the theater party at Keeney's

"Diamond Lake"

Nature, working deep beneath the surface of the earth under great pressure, has made our familiar transparent diamonds from carbon. By another method of nature, dazzling imitation diamonds have been formed in limestone regions. Underground waters trickling through the earth in limestone areas dissolve out lime and later deposit it as crystals of calcium carbonate and calcium sulphate in subterranean caverns. The crystals of calcium carbonate are the more brilliant and, if free from contamination by other minerals in solution, are transparent or pure white. Such crystals, when illuminated by artificial light, will dazzle the eye as other diamonds do in the sunlight. The most beautiful example of these diamonds of lime is found in the "diamond lake" in the Endless caverns at New Market, Va. The islands and shores of this miniature lake, 290 feet below the surface, gleam with the sparkle of millions of diamonds of lime when a white light is thrown on them.

"Bottle Books"

About a century ago "bottle books" were made in the south of France. They were used to carry liquid refreshments and were popular with judges, lawyers and the learned folk generally. The legal profession was given to carrying its authorities back and forth under the arm. Hence these bottle books, which were made of lustrous, decorated dark blue faience, were in appearance not unlike tooled levant leather. The contents were wholly liquid or partly literary, with a liquid compartment. When the owner felt the need of a nip he opened his little book.—Detroit News.

Whole World in Need of New Mark Tapley

It was an English humorist, Charles Dickens, who invented that supreme type of the laughing philosopher, Mark Tapley. Mark Tapley was a kind of Don Quixote of humor. He made it his business to seek out those most desperate situations, in which most people would find little enough to laugh at and pit his invincible gayety against their blackest gloom.

The drearier the situation in which he found himself the higher his spirits would rise, and the only occasions on which he grew mournful were those which were not gloomy enough to afford a worthy background for his art, says Richard Le Gallienne in McNaught's Monthly. He was a priceless creation and he should be living at this hour, for the food for his mirth was surely never so mysteriously plentiful. How the European situation would make him rub his hands with delight! For, while on every hand the prophets of woe are vaticinating the direct happenings, he would contrive somehow to extract sunshine from the inky chaos and gild the storm clouds with rainbows.

No more valuable human being could be born just now than a new Mark Tapley. The whole world cries out for him. For, while we could well do with a higher percentage of greatness in our statesmen, there is no one we need so much as a new great humorist, that once more the world may return to laughter.

We have plenty of minor humorists both in England and America. I don't know how it is with France and Italy. From all accounts, laughter is not quite dead even in soviet Russia. But since Mark Twain there is no great world laughter, no humorist on a large international scale. Our humorists are all sectional. We have no humorist big enough to lash the gloom away with satire, to bring good humor back to the world and rouse it out of its doleful dumps.

If you say that there is not much to laugh at, the spirit of Mark Tapley is ready with the retort that evidently then the more need for laughter.

Silver and Gold

The crescent of the little beach was like a silver bow. Far out over the glistening waters stretched the gleaming pathway of the moon. The tide was on the turn and each succeeding wave tossed glittering jewels nearer to our feet. The moon had lightly touched the sands and transformed them to grains of the purest silver; she had changed a prosaic rowboat to a ship of dreams. Above us the depth of the inky sky was thickly inlaid with golden stars. Other stars, nearer the horizon, were caught and held by the sea as, huddled close together, they vainly strove to vie with their loftier brethren. The little ripples seemed to be sharing some delightful secret. We could hear them whispering together about it, and when they met and played among the rocks they chuckled gleefully. Who cares for the silver and gold of merchandise, with its clink and jangle? Richer far, is he that holds the memory of one precious hour when words were not spoken, but felt, when silence brooded, fraught with meaning, and the soft, sweet chuckles of the waves were the only voices. An hour all inwrought with nature's silver and gold.

Queer Excuses

Governor Ritchie said at a dinner in Baltimore:

"France spends money lavishly, but won't pay her debts. Her excuses—well, they remind me of a story.

"As a bankrupt broker sat in his dining room feasting on a 28-pound turkey one of his creditors called:

"'Ah, George,' said the creditor, 'when a man can't pay his debts he ought'n't to be eating a magnificent turkey like that.'

"'I know it.' Thus the bankrupt regretfully excused himself as he sliced off a superb slice of breast. 'I know it, old fellow, but how could I afford to keep such a bird?'"

Why He Was Gloomy

When Jones' rich grandmother passed away all his poverty-stricken friends rallied round him with words of cheer and comfort. But Jones remained sad and dejected.

"She left a last will and testament, I suppose?" murmured Jenkins, carelessly.

"Oh, yes," said Jones, "she left a will and testament."

They waited expectantly, while sobs choked back his words.

"I," he declared at last, "am to have the Testament."

Seeing Things

Opening a wine shop near the famous leaning tower of Pisa, a native struggled for several months and then suddenly pulled up stakes overnight, removing to a distant part of the city.

An American friend ventured to inquire the cause of his hasty departure. The explanation was graphic.

"Ze tourist, he came to my wine shop. He takes two drinks of my good wine, maybe three. He stroll out. He see zat leaning tower. He rush to ze notary and take ze pledge. I have to move."—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

A Stony Ancestor

Josiah Quincy, of Boston, tells of how he was once identified by a laborer who was enlightening a friend. "That is Josiah Quincy," said the first laborer. "An' who is Josiah Quincy?" demanded the other. "Don't ye know who Josiah Quincy is?" demanded the first man; "I niver saw sich ignorance. Why, he's the grandson of the statue out there in the yard."

Holland Society Ulster Branch

Formed With William J. Turck President And Holly R. Cantine Secretary—Judge Clearwater Outlines Purposes.

The committee appointed at the time of the visit of the trustees of the Holland Society to Kingston some months ago, Judge Clearwater, William J. Turck and Bruyn Hasbrouck, who then were designated to consult with the Ulster county members of the society with a view of ascertaining whether a branch of the society could be organized here, called a meeting of the local members at the Advance Restaurant on the evening of Friday, the 18th instant. Those who attended were the Judge, William J. Turck, Bruyn Hasbrouck, Philip R. DuBois, H. Bowman LeFever, Clarence H. Woolsey and Bruyn J. Terwilliger of New Paltz; Holly Cantine of Saugerties; Theodore Brink of Katrine; Charles C Ten Broeck, Myron Teller and E. Otis Van Aken of this city.

Judge Clearwater, who presided, said that ordinarily branch societies of great organizations degenerated into mere dining clubs If that was to be the fate of an Ulster county branch, he was opposed to it. If, however, a local branch could be formed for a serious purpose, it should be encouraged, important matters to which a branch could devote its attenton were the collection of manuscripts and data relative to the early history of Ulster county and of Kingston. A large collection of these had been made by the Ulster County Historical Society, but every manuscript and practically every printed book had been purloined. Doubtless there still existed scattered among the old familes of the county, materal which would be valuable, and should be saved.

In addition to this, an Ulster county branch might be of service in suggesting to the trustees of the Holland Society, an avenue of expenditure of energy and money. Much of both had been wasted in printing the banalities of inconsequential after dinner speakers. The Genealogical and Biographical Society whose annual dues were twice those of the Holland Society, had obtained a unique position by the publication of important historical and genealogical data, and had accumulated a fund of $250,000 for the erection of a building in the city of New York. The Holland Society which had existed forty years, had published two or three volumes of records, the most important of which were the records of the Huguenot Dutch Church at New Paltz. He suggested that if a local society were formed, it press the publication of the records of the old church at Shawangunk, one of the most important churches in the denomination of the Dutch Reformed Church in America, an organization which owned one of the oldest and most picturesque church edifices, an edifice constructed in 1723 and celebrated all over the world in the painting by E. L. Henry, the Charleston, South Carolina, artist.

A suggestion might also be made that the erection of the statue of William the Silent which had been cast at the great bronze factory in Brussels, and which now was in the keeping of the Collegiate Church of the city of New York, be placed upon its pedestal, if not for the Walloon Ter-Centenary celebration coming on this year, then certainly for the great Ter-Centenary celebration planned for 1926. The judge said the Holland Society was not in fault relative to the delay in placing this statue upon its pedestal because the board of estimate and apportionment and the municipal art commission of New York, had as yet been unable to agree upon its location.

After a full discussion it was decided to organize a local branch, and to make its main object the collection of the data to which the judge had referred; also to press upon the attention of the trustees of the Holland Society the importance at once of printing and publishing the records of the old Shawangunk Church, and to make a modest suggestion with regard to the Statute of William the Silent.

In view of the fact that the trustess of the Holland Society proposed to visit Kingston again on the 24th and 25th of May, it was determined to request the consistory of the First Dutch Church to arrange for a special service on the morning of Sunday, the 25th.

It further was determined that the vice president for Ulster county from year to year should be the president of the local branch. William J. Turck, the present vice president for this county, automatically thus became president, and Holly R. Cantine was chosen secretary.

Madame Duse A Bit Better

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Pittsburgh, April 19.—Madame Eleanora Duse, 65, famous Italian tragedienne who is seriously ill with influenza in her suite at the Shenley Hotel here, showed some improvement this morning, according to hotel authorities.

"Le Duse" as she is known in her native land, became ill two weeks ago after a performance here and was to have gone to Cleveland two days later to appear in two performances there. She cancelled her Cleveland engagement and remained here.

"Madame Duse has improved some during the past 24 hours but is still seriously ill," declared Dr. Charles J. Barone, her physician.

Odds and Ends

The First Reformed Church. The Rev. Mr. Boeve's morning subject will be "Remember Jesus Christ." After the sermon the Lord's supper will be celebrated. New members will be received and the rite of Baptism will be administered to both children and adults. The day begins at 7 o'clock with prayer meeting held by the Endeavorers. The morning service begins promptly at 10:30. Then there will be an afternoon service of church and Sunday school at 4 o'clock in the lecture room. The choir will sing anthems. There will be an orchestra, and new carols will be sung by the school. The public is cordially invited. No evening service.

"Life" of a Magnet

The life of a permanent magnet magnetized in any manner whatever has never been determined. A magnet made of the best quality steel, properly heat treated and aged and used under the best conditions of service would probably deteriorate only a negligible amount in the lifetime of a single observer.

Nature's Bank

Natives of China, India and Malay peninsula, use the soil for their banks, and it is estimated millions of dollars are thus stored away.

Jane Seymour's Ghost Haunts Hampton Court

In a recent article by Alberic Cahuet on "The Ghosts of Fontainebleau," published in L'Illustration (Paris), according to a translation in the Kansas City Star, the writer said:

"In England, at Hampton Court, it is admitted that Jane Seymour, third wife of Henry VIII, comes back in the dead of night to wander through the corridors. Her ghost—a wraith with disheveled hair outlined in white light—has been seen, it is declared, on the little stairway which leads to the private apartment once occupied by the young queen. It is even claimed that the apparition has been photographed—witness the souvenir postcards sold by the caretaker at the castle."

It is frankly admitted that the postcard is intended simply to show what Jane's wraith looks like when it is photographed.

It will be remembered that Jane Seymour, Henry VIII's third wife, was married by this Bluebeard monarch the day after the execution of his second wife, Anne Boleyn, in May, 1536. Jane Seymour was then barely twenty years old. Hampton Court is one of the largest of the royal palaces of England, is of brick with crenellated walls, and was built by Cardinal Wolsey in 1515 as a gift to Henry VIII. More than eight hundred of the thousand-odd rooms are today occupied by members of the British aristocracy who are lodged there gratuitously by the crown. It would appear from this that if the ghost of poor Jane Seymour still haunts the corridors of Hampton Court it runs the risk of encountering plenty of living persons.

Chewing Gum Industry Demands Lots of Mint

Gum-chewers have so increased in numbers that the demand for flavoring extract for the gum results in a constantly increasing price therefor. The acreage in the production of the plant in two Michigan counties exceeds 4,000 acres.

Peppermint as a flavor is today in great demand everywhere. The peppermint men say this is largely owing to its use in the manufacture of chewing gum. Oil of peppermint is now also employed to test steam boilers. If the odor of the oil escapes it indicates that the boiler is unsafe. A boiler that will hold the smell of the oil is said to

Boxing Card at Armory Ready

Two Twelve Round Bouts, an Eight and a Six Will Make Up Program —Reserved or Ringside Seats On Sale—Ladies Free.

The opening show of the local boxing bouts to be staged at the state armory on Friday evening, April 25, according to indications and judging from the card announced by Barney Williams, the matchmaker, will prove to be a first class entertainment. The boys that will take part in the contests have a good reputation and are all getting in the best of shape for the local exhibition.

There will be in all thirty-eight rounds of high class boxing. The first exhibition of twelve rounds will be between Pete Hayes and Buddy Wallace. Pete Hayes has a good record and has won many fights. He has met all of the best fighters and very recently sent Red Cap Wilson to the mat for the count. Buddy Wallace has a like reputation and has had the honor to meet Champion Johnny Dundee, Joe Tipiitz, Willie Jackson, and many other noted artists in the game. The second bout will also be a twelve round contest and will bring together Henry Shaw and Jimmy Ryder. Henry Shaw is rapidly coming to the front in the pugilistic world and has a record of winning his last twenty fights by the knockout route. Jimmy Ryder is a very hard hitting middleweight and has done quite a bit of damage to his past opponents. An eight round bout will next be presented and Steve Marcon and Joe Eckhardt will clash. Both of these boys are out for the honors and very recently fought a sensational ten round draw in New York city. The fourth bout will also be a thriller as it will bring together Joe Marino and Gene Moriarty both very fast junior lightweights. Joe Marino has won all his recent fights and Gene Moriarty is quoted as "The Old War Horse" and has met such men as Champion Benny Leonard and also Jack Britton and several other fighters of like reputation.

To introduce the manly art of boxing to ladies all ladies will be admitted free. Reservations will be made in the gallery for ladies.

The exhibitions will be held under the auspices of Batteries E and I, 132nd Ammunition Train and are scheduled to be held semi-monthly. The authorities in charge of staging the bouts announce that everything is in readiness for the opening engagements. The ring and bleachers cannot be erected in the armory, however, until after Monday night, on account of the Benedictine ball being held on that evening, but it has been announced that the ring and bleachers are easily available and can be put in short notice so there will be no delay on the night of the shows. Both of the local batteries will have men on hand under the supervision of Lieut. H. A. Keator so as to maintain order and so that there will be no confusion in the finding of reserved seats. Those who wish to secure reserved or ringside seats may do so now and reservations can be made at any time by calling at the armory or phoning 292.

Harry Barlowe will act as announced at the bouts and Barney Williams will be the third man in the ring.

Hall Team Wants a Game

Among Bridgeport Club's Players Are Ralph and Ray Cassidy, Formerly of Kingston and Still in High School.

The Hall Community, Bridgeport's most popular road team would like to arrange games with the Colonials of Kingston and other fast teams along the Hudson.

Three years ago in a game for the junior championship of Bridgeport, the Hall Community, then tied with the Crashoe A. C., drew a record attendance. Close to five thousand persons witnessed the tilt and saw the Hall team come out with a win. The Hall team has the same team now as it had then with the exception of three out of town stars who were signed up for the coming season. The most noted of these is Pete Wilson. Last year Wilson pitched for Williamanatic. Wilson saw service in the major league and has since then played with many teams throughout Connecticut and New York. The Hall Community also boasts of the Cassidy twins. These boys, hailing from Kingston and developed in Bridgeport, are the most popular ball tossers around that neck of the woods. Ralph is a second sacker and handles himself a la Frankie Frisch, while Ray digs up the dirt at the third turn. The Cassidys, although the youngest members of the Hall team have both been offered jobs with Eastern League teams, but have cast aside all offers that they received in order that they may finish high school.

Arrangements can be made by writing to Dan Mathews, 407 East avenue, Bridgeport, Conn.

Battery E to Practice Sunday

The Battery E Baseball Team had another workout on Thursday evening and the prospects of the team look very promising. A large delegation of the members of the battery were present. All those members of the battery who wish to go in for baseball this season and have not as yet tried out for the team, will be given another opportunity Sunday morning at 9 o'clock at the Athletic Field.

At a recent meeting of the members of the team Private Kenneth Gaddis handed in his resignation as captain of the team and after some thought the resignation was accepted and the captaincy awarded to Private James Wesley.

The manager of the team is looking to book several games with teams from the city as well as in the suburbs. Any team wishing to play the soldiers will have a chance to do so by writing the manager at the armory, stating full particulars.

The Poughkeepsie Exposition.

An industrial and civic exposition of unprecedented proportions has been announced by Poughkeepsie to take place in that city May 17 to 24 inclusive. Industrial, mercantile and general exhibits from all the region around are announced, and civic, public service and educational features will abound. Special features will be the Poughkeepsie Automobile Show and a brilliant electrical show. Daily afternoon and evening entertainments and style shows will be an additional attraction.

Sheridan Caseys Here on Sunday

Colonials Angling for Clint Bloom, a Former Giant Twirler, Who, If He Can Be Secured, Will Pitch Sunday—If Not Bud Culloton Will Start.

Judge Schirick stated this morning that he was making an effort to get in touch with Clint Bloom, a former Giant twirler, to have him here Sunday to face the Sheridan Caseys at the Kingston Fair Grounds. Bloom pitched last year with the Giants, but quit the big league to sell real estate. If unable to get Bloom the judge expects to start Bud Culloton against the visitors. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock, weather permitting.

Pat Coutant and Wicker will also be on hand to go in if needed Sunday. Judge Schirick stated that Coutant broke his arm in an auto accident the past winter and for that reason was holding off using Pat until the weather warmed up. Wicker is an unknown quality as far as the Colonials are concerned.

Owing to the fact that it was impossible to have batting practice this week the judge has been unable to get a line on Wicker's twirling and until he saw what Wicker had he preferred using men whose ability he knew.

It has been arranged to have the umpiring Sunday done by Pete Jordan and Cy Conners.

The visitors while in Kingston will be the guests of the Kingston Knights of Columbus.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

BELGIUM TREATY.

The first treaty by which the neutrality of little Belgium was guaranteed was signed by representatives of Great Britain, France, Russia, Prussia, Austria and the Netherlands 85 years ago today, April 19, 1839. The treaty arose out of a conference held in London on the Belgian question, by the decision of which the treaty of 1831, by which Belgium gained its independence from Holland was maintained. The treaty of 1839 bound the powers signing it to guarantee a treaty signed the same day between the king of the Belgians and the king of the Netherlands providing that Belgium form an independent state of perpetual neutrality.

When the Franco-Prussian war broke out Belgium feared that their neutrality might be violated and appealed to England for aid with the result that another treaty of neutrality was negotiated it was signed by Prussia, France and England.

"THE MAID OF KENT."

It will be 390 years tomorrow that Elizabeth Barton, known all over England as the "holy maid of Kent," was beheaded at Tyburn for having interfered with the affairs matrimonial of the reigning monarch, Henry VIII. Elizabeth was subject to epilepsy, heard voices and saw visions, which she interpreted as divine revelations. All England was then excited by the attempt of King Henry to divorce Queen Catherine the first of his six spouses, and the "Maid of Kent" whose revelations denounced such actions, added to the general frenzy. The chapel at Addington became a shrine for multitudes of pilgrims, who listened to the Maid as to one divinely inspired. One of her prophecies was that the king would die within seven months if he divorced Catherine.

Henry, to whom news of these predictions were brought, became enraged, and ordered her to be executed at Tyburn according to the custom of the day, that is, he condemned her to death by decapitation. The Maid's prophetic ability was somewhat discounted by the fact that Henry lived to enjoy many divorces.

Elizabeth Barton was beheaded on the 20th day of April, 1534.

PATRIOTS' DAY.

The first battle in the Revolution of the American Colonies was fought 149 years ago today, April 19, 1775, and the anniversary has long been celebrated as a holiday by the people of Massachusetts and Maine. The story of the ride of Paul Revere and the Minute Men who opposed the existing authority and so brought on the conflict at Lexington and the fight at Concord, will be re-told today in thousands of American school rooms, not to speak of the Silver Screen, which has recently stopped the "Why Girls Leave Home" brand of drama, and is at last trying to be of help to those who have the teaching of the youth of the land.

Early on the morning of that fatal day a British column commanded by Major Pitcairn came upon a company of Minute Men drawn up on the Lexington Village Green. The Americans were commanded by John Parker, who had fought with Wolfe on the Plains of Abraham. Pitcairn ordered the men to disperse and when they refused he ordered his men to fire. They hesitated, and Pitcairn discharged his own pistol—firing the shot that was heard round the world—this time the men obeyed Pitcairn's order to fire—and seven of the Minute Men were dead, and ten wounded upon the village green.

Before the day was over the war was on in grim earnest—at Concord and Lexington the Americans lost 93 and the British 273 men.

Recital at Baptist Church.

The Sunshine Class of the First Baptist Sunday School, are arranging to give a fine musical recital at the church on the evening of Friday, May 9th, at 8 o'clock. The talent which they will present will be Mrs. Florence Cubberly, violinist; Mrs. Benjamin Johnston, soprano soloist; Miss Georgiana Claflin, reader; Harry P. Dodge, accompanist.
